Welcome to the University of Nebraska and to Memorial Stadium...

Athletic Director Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Athletic Department, UNL, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to today's game and to Memorial Stadium.

In the short time since Marilyn and I arrived in Lincoln, we have continued to be impressed by the Husker faithful. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that has enabled Nebraska to boast the NCAA record of 188 consecutive sellouts dating back to 1962.

Nebraska fans take pride in its athletic traditions and the Athletic Department and UNL administration is especially proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome to visiting teams and their fans. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship is a vital part of collegiate athletics and a goal of ours at the University of Nebraska. On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Nebraska Cornhuskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

1993 Edition Hopes to Keep up Husker Tradition...

Today's Game

#8 Nebraska vs. North Texas

Series record: first meeting

Coaches: NU-Tom Osborne (195-46-3, 21st year.)

North Texas-Dennis Parker (7-14-1, 3rd year.)

Husker NCAA Records

*31-consecutive winning seasons

*24 consecutive nine-win seasons

*24 consecutive bowl bids

*190 consecutive weeks ranked by AP

*188 consecutive sellouts in Memorial Stadium

Another year. Another success story.

Nebraska football enters its 104th season riding a crest that has put it among the most prolific programs in collegiate sports. The Huskers put an NCAA record 31 consecutive winning seasons, 24 straight bowl invitations and 188 consecutive sellouts at Memorial Stadium on the line in 1993.

The responsibility of upholding the tradition falls on the shoulders of the 1993 edition of the Cornhuskers.

A great deal of the responsibility will be carried by two players in line for top honors at their positions—linebacker Trev Alberts and T-back Calvin Jones.

Alberts, a 6-4, 240 pound senior is a preseason All-American and Butkus Award candidate. Last year, while compiling 73 tackles, including 11 for losses, Alberts earned second-team All-America honors from College and Pro Football Weekly, All-Big Eight and Academic All-District VII.

Jones compiled an impressive list of honors of his own. The junior from Omaha was the Big Eight Offensive Player-of-the-Year in 1992.

Last year, Jones led the conference in rushing with 1,210 yards and scoring for the second straight year at 8.2 points per game. The second-team Football News All-American ranks 14th on the NU all-time rushing chart with 2,110 yards.

Jones isn't the only constant for the Nebraska offense. For the first time in recent years there is a returner directing the offense. Sophomore Tommie Frazier, the 1992 Big Eight Freshman-of-the-Year, is listed among the nation's top five option quarterbacks by Football Action, the NCAA Football Preview and Athlon.

The offense will be bolstered by four other returning starters - split end Corey Dixon, Nebraska's most valuable player in the 1993 Orange Bowl, left tackle Lance Lundberg, right tackle Zach Wiegert and center Ken Mehlin, who is making the switch from left guard.

But the experience goes far beyond the returning starters. Gerald Armstrong will take over tight end duties after the graduation of William Washington. Last season, Armstrong was instant offense for Nebraska, scoring seven touchdowns on eight receptions. Solidifying the receiving corps are split end Trumane Bell and wingback Abdul Muhammad, each started four contests last season.

Paving the way for Jones will be a new starter at fullback, as Cory Schlesinger replaces four-year letterman Lance Lewis. Schlesinger will be backed up by Lance Gray, who made the switch from linebacker in the spring.

Gray was able to make the switch due to the Huskers' strength on the defensive side of the ball. Nebraska returns six starters and its returning linebacking corps was tabbed the third best in the nation by the Sporting News entering the season. The high acclaim has been laid on the crew because of the return of starters Alberts, weakside linebacker Ed Stewart and "Mike" linebacker Mike Anderson.

Defensive tackle/outside linebacker Bruce Moore, right cornerback John Reece return as starters.

Other key returnees for the Husker defense are rover Toby Wright, free safeties Troy Dumas, Mike Heins and Zeke Cisco, defensive tackle Kevin Ramaekers, outside linebacker Donta Jones and nose tackles Terry Connealy and David Noonan.

The kicking game will be in the hands of one man this year. Byron Bennett, the placekicker for the Huskers the last three years, will assume the punting job replacing four-year starter Mike Stigge. Bennett has made 97-of-101 PATs and 18-28 field goals in his career at Nebraska.

Bennett will be looking to add to his totals today as the Huskers host the North Texas Eagles.

The NCAA Divison I-AA school, was a last-minute replacement on the Husker schedule for Wyoming who backed out of its contract. Located in Denton, Texas, the Eagles were 4-7 last season and 3-4 in the Southland Conference.

The Eagles are led by junior quarterback Mitch Maher. The All-Southland Conference selection threw for 2,090 yards and ranked number one in the league in total offense averaging 205.2 yards a game last year.

The No. 1 target for Maher is Clayton George who pulled in 36 passes for 563 yards last season.

Senior Terrance Brown, who finished with 976 yards rushing in 1992, leads the Eagles ground attack.

The Eagles, who run a 4-3 defense, ranked 29th in I-AA last year by allowing 325 yards of total offense a game. The top tackler from last year returns - linebacker Shawn Hicks who totaled 97 tackles last season.

NEXT WEEK: The Huskers remain at home as they entertain Texas Tech of the Southwest Conference. The NCAA Divison I Raiders were 5-6 last year, 4-3 in the conference.

Husker Flashback

Aug. 29, 1983--Top-ranked Nebraska crushed fourth-ranked and defending national champion Penn State, 44-6, in the inaugural Kickoff Classic at East Rutherford, N.J. The Cornhuskers scored the game's first 44 points and were never seriously threatened while rolling up 500 yards in offense.

Sept. 8, 1973--Tom Osborne made his Nebraska head coaching debut in the Cornhuskers' season-opening 40-13 victory over UCLA in Lincoln. The Huskers, who were ranked fourth, avenged a 1972 loss to the Bruins that ended NU's 32-game unbeaten streak. Back-up QB Steve Runty, subbing for the injured Dave Humm, hit nine-of-11 passes for 105 yards and fullback Tony Davis rushed for 147 yards and two scores.

Sept. 18, 1965--Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers, ranked No. 1 for the first time ever, opened the season with a 34-14 win over Texas Christian in Lincoln. NU, which fell to second in the polls the following week despite the win, won its first 10 games before losing to Alabama in the Orange Bowl, 39-28. North Texas Athletic Director Steve Sloan quarterbacked the Crimson Tide to the Orange Bowl win over NU.

Sept. 17, 1960--Nebraska opened the 1960 campaign with a 14-13 upset of fourth-ranked and defending Southwest Conference champion Texas in Austin. Quarterback Pat Fischer accounted for both touchdowns, as he returned a punt 76 yards for a score and ran two yards for the second. He also tossed a pass to Bill Thornton on a two-point conversion attempt.

Sept. 30, 1950--Halfback Bobby Reynolds rushed for 187 yards as the Cornhuskers opened the season with a 20-all tie with Big Ten rival Indiana.

A year of change, challenge and opportunities

Welcome to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus. I am pleased that you have chosen to spend your Saturday afternoon with us. Each fall I deliver a "State of the University" address. Many of the items in my message today were discussed in more depth in the speech. If you would like a complete copy of the "State of the University" speech, you can receive one by contacting my office. I would be happy to send one to you.

This past year has presented challenges to those of us who work at UNL and I would like to outline a few of our successes. Even in the face of reductions in State support, UNL has endeavored to maintain the highest quality academic programs and provide our services to the State as efficiently as possible. Make no mistake about it, the return on one dollar invested by the State in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is among the best investments in higher education nationally, and I pledge to continue my efforts to manage prudently and honestly the State's allocation to this University. The taxpayers of Nebraska should be pleased that we are doing more with less.

Our needs are indeed great, and we must send a clear signal: We have not yet approached the limits of greatness possible at this institution, but reaching our potential will require a greater investment. Think of it as venture capital for the well being of the State of Nebraska, think of it as promoting economic development, think of it as banking on the future of the next generation, think of it as an enhancement of our arts and culture, think of it as making the difference between a sound Nebraska today and an enhanced Nebraska for the future. Think of it in any of these ways for they all represent the contexts in which investing in UNL pays off handsomely for the citizens of the State and the nation.

We are a different university today than we were just two years ago, weathering substantial alterations in leadership, budget, organizational structure, government oversight and political climate. In order to continue to grow and strengthen, we must take the responsibility to manage our own affairs, to set our own direction, and to make these modifications always with the best interests of the university and the state in mind.

In keeping with that philosophy, we will begin a comprehensive long-range academic planning process this fall to coincide with budget development for the 1995-97 biennium. Part of that process includes determining the effect of an estimated 40 percent turnover in faculty, due in part to retirements, which is expected in the next decade. We will be faced with a significant set of hiring opportunities and I want plans in place to ensure that resources and priorities are properly directed. Long-term planning will help UNL define its missions and priorities for the turn of the century and beyond.

I want to re-emphasize my commitment to research and scholarly activity at UNL. Research and teaching need not be competing activities. Our faculty should not have to be apologetic or shy about their commitment to research, scholarship and creative activity, so long as they do not lose sight of the institution's overriding commitment to its students.

I am pleased to report an 11 percent overall increase in grant and contract funding awarded to UNL during the just-ended fiscal year. Research funding at UNL increased by more than 21 percent. UNL received a record $74.4 million, with $50 million received in grants and contracts from the federal government alone.

One of our goals is a complete rewiring of the entire campus for voice, data and video communications. In addition, an Information Technologies Management Council will be formed to develop a long-range plan for computing, telecommunications and distance learning.

We are continuing to chip away at UNL's deferred maintenance needs through classroom revitalization and other renovation projects. This year, we will take major steps through an internally funded program to improve accessibility in accordance with the Americans With Disabilities Act.

Recently we have launched several new programs and scholarships designed to help recruit new students, particularly minority students and high-achieving scholars, to UNL. A new student-recruitment video will be sent to all junior and senior high schools in Nebraska, community agencies, Extension offices, alumni offices and others to "spread the word" about UNL. I want every graduate of a Nebraska high school, and his or her parents, to see this video.

Efforts also continue to be made to ensure student retention and eventual graduation from UNL.

Because UNL must be a leader in providing more opportunities for women within National Collegiate Athletic Association guidelines, UNL will add intercollegiate women's soccer next year.

Many of us believe that achieving greater gender equity in athletics is best accomplished by increasing opportunities for women, not by decreasing opportunities for men. Soccer was chosen as a sport to field at UNL because of the interest and ability of students who participate in the sport at the high school level in Nebraska. Funding for soccer will come solely from UNL Athletic Department revenues and private contributions.

My previous two years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln have been personally challenging and rewarding. I thank you for your support and ask for your continued support during the upcoming period of change that is necessary to help UNL meet the needs of its students and the state.

Education, Exercise and Better Signage Improves
Older Drivers' Skills, Keeping Them on . . .

An alarming 15 percent increase in the number of accidents involving older drivers prompted a university study that could help older drivers improve their skills.

The research team included faculty and staff from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska Medical Center, the University of Nebraska at Kearney and Immanuel Rehabilitation Center in Omaha.

Civil engineering faculty at UNL were concerned by statistics showing a 15 percent increase in the number of drivers ages 65 and older involved in fatal or injury accidents between 1977 and 1987.

The researchers, directed by Patrick McCoy, UNL professor of civil engineering, worked to find out why older drivers appeared to be more accident prone and what techniques could be devised to prevent driving-skill deterioration.

McCoy said the first year of the two-year study was spent examining older drivers and testing their physical, perceptual and cognitive abilities. He and other traffic engineers also examined accident data to find out the types of accidents in which older drivers were most likely to be involved.

"We looked at the pattern of accidents and found that the problems were typically at intersections involving the left turn and crossing maneuvers (across on-coming traffic)," he said.

The researchers also tested a sample of older drivers on their driving-skills knowledge and had each one drive a test route.

Based upon the findings, the group spent the second year devising countermeasures to discover how best to improve older drivers' skills. Those measures included physical and perceptual exercises, driver education and traffic engineering improvements made to the roadway.

A group of 105 (54 females and 51 males) older drivers between the ages of 65 and 88 were evaluated as they drove a 12-mile route on Omaha streets. The subjects were tested twice — before starting the countermeasure treatments and at the end of the study. Some participants did physical exercises, some did perceptual exercises, some received driver education and some were exposed only to the traffic engineering improvements.

McCoy said all the countermeasures proved effective in improving driving performance for older drivers.

"The combination of perceptual exercises and driver education resulted in the most improvement," he said. "Of course it's true for drivers of any age that the better physical shape and health one is in and the more they know about driving, the better driver they will be."

He said the average improvement on the driving test was nearly 10 percent.

The results of a cost-effectiveness analysis indicated that traffic engineering improvements, such as better signage and clearer road markings, would be the most effective countermeasures in urban areas with high-volume roadways. McCoy said driver education and physical and perceptual exercises would be best method for helping drivers in rural areas with lower-volume roads.

Participant Florence Gevo of Omaha said the test bolstered her confidence in her driving skills. The 72-year-old Gevo said she began driving early in her teen-age years back when "you didn't even need a driver's license."

Today she considers her driver's license a ticket to the freedom and independence that she cherishes.

"I have several friends who have never driven and their husbands died and some just have to wait now for someone to come and get them and take them places and others are almost angry because no one comes to get them," she said. "You know that's terrible. I'd hate to have to wait for someone to come and get me."

She's proud of her clean driving record and said she takes care to avoid driving in unfamiliar neighborhoods or at night.

Above all, she said, the study reinforced her belief that she is a good driver. "The driver's education specialist from Kearney (UNK) said I was a good driver when he rode with me," she said. "I think we exceeded their expectations — maybe they thought some of us wouldn't even be turning in the right place."

McCoy said he was impressed not only with the older drivers' abilities and their improvement, but with their spirit of competition. "When we were finished everyone wanted to know where they stood in terms of the rest of the group and how well they scored," he said.

McCoy encouraged any older drivers interested in improving their driving skills to contact their insurance agent or an organization such as the American Association of Retired Persons for information about driver education courses for older people.

Other team members were Richard Ashman, associate professor in the Safety Center at UNK who helped with the driver education component; Pat Hageman, director and chair of the physical therapy division at UNMC who helped with the medical testings; Jill Moon Powers, an occupational therapist from Omaha's Immanuel Rehabilitation Center who taught the skills-improvement exercises to the participants; and two traffic engineers from the city of Omaha who designed and installed the traffic engineering improvements.

The study was funded by the Midwest Transportation Center at Iowa State University, the state highway departments of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska and the UNL Center for Infrastructure Research.

Noonan Ready To 'Attack' Senior Season

New Defense has Husker Excited About the Prospects for a successful Senior Season

By Brian George

Nebraska defensive tackle David Noonan is ready to 'attack' his senior season and add to the Noonan legacy at NU.

In 1989, Noonan was recruited out of Lincoln Northeast where he was an all-state defensive tackle an all-regional selection by SuperPrep Magazine. David was also known as the younger brother of Danny, an All-America middle guard at Nebraska in 1986, and a member of the Dallas Cowboys from 1987-92.

When David Noonan accepted a scholarship at Nebraska he knew that he would have to play in the shadow of his older brother.

But, the younger Noonan never paid much attention to the comparisons between he and his brother. In fact, he says at times he has had fun with the questions.

"At first I thought I would get real tired of all the comparisons," said Noonan. "But, now the questions are more personal and less critical. People will ask how Danny is doing and if I have talked to him recently? People are interested in both of us succeeding in our own ways."

Danny Noonan, who is seven years older than David, retired from the NFL during fall camp with the Denver Broncos this year. He is a member of the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame and is still regarded as one of the best middle guards to have ever played at Nebraska.

That kind of success is something that David Noonan hopes to achieve for himself during his final season. But, he is not only thinking about personal success. "I think the whole team is ready to focus on competing for the national championship," said Noonan. "And, with our new defense, we could be a surprise."

"I'm excited about our defense this year," said Noonan. "With our new look we will be a lot more attack-oriented. It is something different for us, but a lot of teams run it."

The new defense, according to Noonan, will be a lot faster. "Florida State uses it and everybody says they are so fast," said Noonan. "I think it makes defenses look faster because they are designed to attack the ball."

A new defense shouldn't be alarming to Noonan as his career has been filled with change and challenge so he said he is prepared for whatever this season brings.

Heading into the 1993 season Noonan, along with teammate and alternate nose tackle Terry Connealy, were both listed among the top 20 players at their position in the 1993 NCAA Football Preview. But, according to Noonan, most honors can be taken at face value. "Nebraska has turned out a lot of great defensive players," said Noonan. "Last year, John (Parrella) and Travis (Hill) were both underrated and should have received more national attention. I'm just glad to be a part of Nebraska's success."

Last year, Noonan started every game at nose tackle and shared playing time with Connealy. Noonan was used primarily in short-yardage situations posting 20 total tackles and two quarterback hurries.

Noonan and Connealy are expected to share time at nose tackle again this year, according to Nebraska Defensive Coordinator and Defensive Line Coach Charlie McBride.

"Heading into the first game," said Coach McBride, "I have two guys that are first-team players. David (Noonan) has been slowed by some knee surgery this summer. But he's a kid that knows the business and gives a great effort."

Noonan's surgery was to remove bone fragments from his knees.

"The surgery has slowed me down some, but, I'm still ready to get out there and help the team," Noonan said.

That attitude is perhaps one of the greatest similarities between David Noonan and his older brother.

"The one similarity that does stand out about Danny and David is that they both were and are very consistent and competitive players," said Coach McBride.

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system under the guidance of its Board of Regents and a central administration.

The university's flagship campus, the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, includes components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Other campuses in the system include the University of Nebraska at Omaha, the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha and the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln is Nebraska's only land-grant university and its major comprehensive institution of higher education. With 24,000 students from all parts of the world, UNL offers a wide range of undergraduate, professional and graduate programs including those leading to the doctorate. In addition to teaching, UNL faculty members are involved actively in research and educational outreach.

As UNL carries out its three-part mission of teaching, research and service, the overall impact of its efforts in each area is greater than the sum of its separate parts, ensuring that the quality of all its institutional programs is consistent with the expectations and needs of Nebraskans.

UNL is continuously designing new academic frameworks to provide students with the mental skills and broad perspectives of educated citizens. Under the direction of Graham Spanier, who became UNL's chancellor in November 1991, UNL has set a high priority on establishing a common general education curriculum. The curriculum will follow a plan developed by UNL faculty after a comprehensive, university-wide review of its general liberal education program.

Spanier is a strong proponent of improving undergraduate education. He believes that as the flagship campus of the University of Nebraska system, UNL must provide leadership in research as well as service programs responsive to the changing needs and expectations of the citizens of Nebraska.

UNL receives special funds through an innovative program initiated by the state government for research in specific areas with potential impact on the state's economic development. These research initiative programs are centered in biotechnology, materials research and analysis, water quality, technology management and decision sciences and a group of engineering centers. UNL receives more than $50 million annually in grants and contracts from outside sources for research, instruction, public service, administration and student aid.

UNL will provide a new focus for science and technology in its planned George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research. Construction of the center began in the summer of 1992. When completed in 1994, the center will provide state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials, chemical engineering and related fields. The center, named in honor of the Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and UNL alumnus, will cost approximately $24 million, of which the federal government has provided $17.7 million.

Quality instruction is emphasized in UNL's nine undergraduate colleges, the Graduate College and the College of Law. The Colleges of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Teachers College offer more than 100 degree programs leading to career opportunities in the arts, the sciences, humanities, business and the professions.

Over the years, alumni such as authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz, legal educator Roscoe Pound, anthropologist Loren Eiseley, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalists Jim Risser and Marjorie Lundstrom, presidential advisers Ted Sorenson and Clayton Yeutter and scientists such as Beadle and fellow Nobel laureate Donald Crum, inventor Harold "Doc" Edgerton and computer pioneer Jay Forrester have enriched the university's tradition of leadership and scholarly excellence.

The university's faculty stands at the forefront of discovery in many fields, and through its service programs, UNL reaches thousands of citizens each year. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and youth development and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs such as summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours. Working with the private sector, UNL was the first land-grant university in the nation to offer an interdisciplinary major in agriculture and business and has created the nation's first franchise studies program.

The university's innovative Nebraska Technical Assistance Center and Food Processing Center are examples of other major cooperative efforts among the state, the university and the private sector.

The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and Lied Center for Performing Arts. The University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection and helped develop Ashfall Fossil Beds State Park, which opened in the summer of 1991 and has become one of Nebraska's premier tourist attractions.

UNL, noted for its outstanding athletic programs, is also noted for the quality of its academic programs for student athletes. Its Hewitt Training Center for student athletes provides computer labs, study areas, career counseling and other academic support services. UNL leads the nation in Academic All-Americans for all sports, including football.

In 1991, College Athletic Management Magazine named Nebraska No. 1 in the country for its program of student athlete support. UNL is also considered the flagship of a 50-university consortium that guarantees scholarships for student athletes who want to get a degree after their eligibility is completed. ■

The Big Eight Conference

The Big Eight Conference is America's oldest such organization composed entirely of state institutions. Members include Iowa State, Kansas State, Oklahoma State, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. The following is a chronological history of the league's formation:

- The league was founded on Jan. 12, 1907, when Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Washington University of St. Louis met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., to form what was then known as the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Iowa competed only in the sport of football, and had dual membership in the Big Ten.
- Two months later, Iowa State (known as Ames College) and Drake joined the league, competing for the first time in 1908.
- After the 1910-11 academic year, Iowa aligned itself solely with the Big Ten.
- Kansas State (known at the time as Kansas College of Applied Science and Agriculture) was admitted in 1913.
- Grinnell (Iowa) College was admitted in 1919. (Note: Nebraska was an independent for the 1919 and 1920 football seasons and the 1919-20 basketball campaign.)
- Oklahoma was admitted in 1920.
- Oklahoma State, then called Oklahoma A&M College, withdrew from the Southwest Conference and joined in 1925. This brought the league to an all-time high membership of 10.
- On May 19, 1928, at a meeting in Lincoln, Neb., six of the seven state institutions (Oklahoma State the exception) formally organized a separate conference — known to the public and media as the Big Six (although the name was still the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association).
- The MVIAA (Big Six) upped to the Big Seven in 1947 with the addition of Colorado from the Skyline Conference.
- The league membership grew to eight on June 1, 1957, when Oklahoma State rejoined the fold.
- The official title was changed in 1964 from the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Big Eight Conference.

The Conference has been headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., since 1947. The governing body of faculty athletics representatives voted on December 12, 1947 that "a central office be established in Kansas City for the purpose of facilitating the operation of the Association." A one-room office was established at the Muehlbach Hotel on 12th Street.

Reeves E. Peters, a high school coach in Kansas City, who had voluntarily kept Conference football statistics for a number of years, was hired as the first commissioner (with the formal title of Commissioner of Officials and Assistant Secretary). Each institution was assessed $1,000 to cover the expense of the central office.

The Big Eight once again fared well on the national level with 11, top 10 team finishes and six top five placings at 1992-93 NCAA competitions. Individually, 71 student-athletes placed in the top 10 at NCAA championship events, with nine winning titles. Among the academic honors were a Rhodes Scholarship, three National Football Foundation Scholars and three GTE/CosIDA Academic All-Americans-of-the-Year.

Peters was succeeded by Wayne Duke in 1963. After Duke left to become Big Ten commissioner in 1971, Charles Neinas was appointed commissioner. He served in that capacity until 1980 when he assumed directorship of the College Football Association. He was replaced by Carl C. James, who serves today as commissioner. James had served previously as athletics director at Duke and Maryland.

The Conference was established to promote scholarship and high ideals in sportsmanship, as well as to formulate principles regarding the proper placement of athletics on the intercollegiate level. Because of this early commitment to academic and athletic excellence, today the Big Eight is widely recognized for its success in both arenas. In addition to their collective work toward athletic excellence, member institutions cooperate on a number of academic projects and pursuits.

The Big Eight has also been a pioneer in the advancement of women's athletics. After months of planning and discussion, the Big Eight became fully involved in women's athletics on May 24, 1979 when faculty athletics representatives accepted a recommendation from the athletics directors for full financial and administrative support of 10 annual championship events for women. The input for the decision came from every level of administration, including chief executive officers and faculty athletics representatives. The Big Eight became the first major governing body to take such a step.

A similar task force of administrators from all levels was established in May of 1992 to examine the issues of gender equity, cost containment and increased student-athlete participation. Many of those recommendations have already been implemented.

Affairs of the Big Eight Conference are conducted through faculty control. Faculty representatives (persons of professional rank who do not receive pay primarily for services rendered in connection with athletic or physical education) serve as the policy-directing group of the Conference. Directors of athletics serve as the operating body or administrative agency. Oklahoma State faculty representative Dr. Gerald Lage serves as the Chair of the Conference for the 1993-94 academic year, while Dr. James Corbridge of Colorado is the Vice-Chairman. Meetings of faculty representatives, athletics directors and conference staff are conducted four times a year.

Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Byrne

Athletic Director

A new chapter in the Cornhuskers' rich athletic tradition began on June 26, 1992, when Bill Byrne was introduced as the person to succeed longtime Husker athletic director Bob Devaney. He became the 10th athletic director in the history of Nebraska athletics and just the third since 1962.

Byrne, an energetic 48-year-old, came to Nebraska from the University of Oregon, where he was athletic director for eight years. Recently named to the College Football Association's Board of Directors, Byrne begins his first football season as the Nebraska athletic director.

He arrived in Lincoln on Nov. 1, 1992, took the reins of the athletic department on Jan. 4, 1993 and has been a tireless worker every step of the way. During his first year on the job, Byrne traveled with almost every Husker team on at least one road trip and traveled the state of Nebraska too, visiting with boosters and learning the needs and concerns of Husker fans everywhere.

During the transition year under Byrne, the athletic department never missed a beat. In fact, during the 1992-93 season Nebraska:

- Won its 14th straight Big Eight Conference all-sports championship.
- Won seven conference championships (football, wrestling, men's gymnastics, men's swimming, women's indoor and outdoor track and volleyball).
- Finished in the upper division of the conference standings in 15 of 21 sports.

In addition to maintaining a high standard of excellence on the playing field, Byrne has successfully reorganized the department for the 21st century. Stressing more efficient use of resources, Byrne is in the process of creating a one-stop shopping type of organization so that the needs of student athletes, fans and contributors can be met as promptly as possible.

A member of the NCAA committee for athletic certification, Byrne is making an aggressive effort, along with other Big Eight Conference athletic directors, to place Nebraska and other conference officials on key NCAA committees in an effort to better represent the views of Big Eight member institutions.

His ideas for the future could lead to even more success for the Huskers. An innovator in college athletics, Byrne is considering installing new sound systems and scoreboards in virtually all the Husker athletic facilities. Among his future plans is renovating Memorial Stadium with a new press box, sky boxes, more concessions and comfortable facilities for disabled fans, after the current structural and architectural studies of the facility are completed.

In conjunction with the rest of the UNL administration, Byrne has arranged to use the Husker football and basketball radio networks to promote causes and concerns that are important to the entire university community, including the university's increased role in research.

The continued success of the overall Husker program should come as no surprise, considering Byrne's previous accomplishments. He arrived in Oregon in 1982 as associate athletic director and the top administrator for the Duck Athletic Fund. He immediately established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for in-house production of Ducks' contests on radio and television throughout the state.

He assumed the duties of director of athletics in the late summer of 1984 as one of the youngest directors in Division I athletics. He served in that role from 1984 to November 1992. During his eight-year tenure as athletic director, Oregon qualified for postseason competition in football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, wrestling, softball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, and men's golf. Meanwhile, the Ducks' overall budget soared to $12.5 million in 1992 from $5 million in 1984.

One of Byrne's most noted accomplishments at Oregon was the three-year construction project to build the $11 million Casanova Athletic Center, the home of the Ducks' football team and athletic department offices. The $19 million project also included a new press box, sky suites and a complete renovation of Autzen Stadium. The facility was financed through sky box and sky suite revenues, sale of sponsor seats, and cash and gift-in-kind donations. It was completed in 1992.

Respected by his peers, Byrne served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in the 1991-92 academic year, and is in his fourth year on that organization's executive committee. He was also chairman of the Pacific-10 Conference executive committee and was named national fund-raiser of the year by the National Athletic Fund-Raisers Association.

Born in Boston, Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State University, where he was student body president. He received bachelor's and master's degrees in business at the Pocatello school in 1967 and 1971, respectively. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he served as director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76), executive director of the University of New Mexico's Lobo Club (1976-79) and assistant athletic director at San Diego State University (1980-82).

Byrne, described by his peers as persistent, optimistic, enthusiastic and diligent, said his first priority at Nebraska would be to get to know Husker supporters both in and out of Nebraska. His goal as athletic director is "to continue the high level of performance that Nebraska has enjoyed while preparing the athletic program for the challenges of the 21st century."

Chancellor Graham Spanier said Byrne will continue Nebraska's national prominence and will help the Huskers build for the future. "Bill Byrne is prepared to respect Nebraska's traditions while bringing us some new ideas of his own," Spanier said. "His accomplishments in management, fund-raising, innovation, relations and leadership are obvious and will serve us well."

A professional educator, Byrne's wife Marilyn served as a middle-school principal in Oregon. She is completing coursework for a Ph.D. and teaching at UNL. The Byrnes have two sons—Bill, who is employed by Visa in San Francisco, and Greg, a senior at Arizona State University. ■

When to buy, sell or hold your financial advisor.

These days, it seems as though just about everybody can call themselves a financial advisor.

And unfortunately, it's difficult to measure their worth without first trusting them with your money.

What you need are some standards by which to judge financial advisors. And we'd like to suggest a few.

It can take as little as four months to pass the General Securities NYSE/NASD examinations and become a licensed broker. Over 30,000 people will qualify this year alone. Qualifying many of them, in their eyes, to call themselves financial advisors or investment consultants.

But becoming a Prudential Securities Financial Advisor requires a minimum of two years' training. We invest over $100,000 in each recruit's training, and, to help attract the best, we offer one of the best compensation packages on Wall Street.

The investment in Prudential Securities Financial Advisors doesn't end there. In fact, it never ends. Last year we invested $105 million in technical support for our advisors and committed a further $12 million to ongoing training programs.

Cornhusker Legend Bob Devaney

Athletic Director Emeritus

When one talks about the success of University of Nebraska athletic teams, one name tops the list of persons responsible—Bob Devaney. On Jan. 4, 1993, Devaney stepped down as athletic director and turned the reins over to Bill Byrne. Now beginning his 32nd year with the athletic department, Devaney has turned his attention to fund-raising and serves in the role of athletic director emeritus.

From the time he took over from Tippy Dye in 1967 to his final year as the Husker athletic director in 1992, his vigor, enthusiasm and administrative excellence earned him a reputation as one of the nation's outstanding athletic directors. Those same characteristics helped make him a football coaching legend. A 1981 inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, Devaney's leadership developed Nebraska into one of the nation's most successful all-around athletic programs.

Devaney arrived in 1962, charged with the mission of building a successful football program, and he succeeded far beyond any one's expectations. During his 11-year stint as Husker football coach, Devaney's teams won 101 games, lost only 20 and tied two for a winning percentage of .829. His career mark of 136-30-7 (.806) ranked him as the winningest active coach in the nation at the time of his retirement in 1973.

In all, his gridiron teams won eight Big Eight titles and two national championships while going to nine bowl games during the 1962-72 span, including three straight Orange Bowl wins. He coached two Outland Trophy winners, a Lombardi Award winner and a Heisman Trophy winner. Twice his teams won four consecutive Big Eight titles, 1963-66 and 1969-72.

The 1971 national title team, which posted a 13-0 record, twice defended its No. 1 ranking against the nation's second-ranked team (beating Oklahoma, 35-31, in the "Game of the Century," and Alabama, 38-6, in the Orange Bowl), and beat the eventual No. 3 team, Colorado, 31-7. That '71 team has been hailed as the best college team of all time.

He received many other honors during his coaching career. He was named Coach of the Year by the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers of America, Football News and the Washington TD Club in 1971, and he was tabbed to coach in numerous all-star games such as the Hula Bowl, Coaches All-America, the Blue-Gray Classic and the Shrine East-West Classic.

As athletic director, he spearheaded drives to virtually rebuild and replace Nebraska's then-aging athletic facilities. Continuing a process begun during Dye's tenure, he oversaw the expansion of Memorial Stadium from its original 36,000 capacity to its present 73,650.

It was Devaney's leadership, working in conjunction with the Nebraska Legislature, that resulted in the passage of a special cigarette tax to provide funds for a new athletic complex, the beautiful, 4.5-acre indoor sports building that opened on the Nebraska State Fair Grounds in 1976. The building, which features a 14,302-seat main arena, plus separate swimming and diving pools, an indoor track and workout areas for wrestling and gymnastics, was renamed the Bob Devaney Sports Center in 1978.

Also in the mid-1970s, Devaney saw to the construction of Ed Weir Track and Field Stadium and a new, partially AstroTurfed baseball facility, Buck Beltzer Field. More recently, he oversaw the expansion of the Huskers' academic counseling service and the concurrent establishment of the Hewitt Center in the West Stadium; the continued expansion of the strength and conditioning program; the construction of the new NU Softball Complex; and the building of the Otto and Gladys A. Baumann Building at Beltzer Field.

Devaney's most recent accomplishment was to spearhead a fund-raising drive to provide the University of Nebraska athletic teams with an indoor workout facility. The size of a full football field, Cook Pavilion was completed in 1989 and is available for the NU football and baseball team workouts. As part of the same project, an adjoining faculty-student recreation facility was finished in 1991, the Lee and Helene Sapp Recreation Center. Devaney also supervised the complete renovation of the connecting Coliseum, which reopened in 1992 and now houses the highly successful Husker women's volleyball program.

Devaney played football as an end at Alma College in Michigan, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1939. After starting his coaching career at Big Beaver, Mich., Devaney moved to Keego Harbor and Saginaw before spending seven years at Alpena High where his teams earned a 52-9-0 record. He then joined Biggie Munn, and later Duffy Daugherty, at Michigan State before becoming head coach at Wyoming in 1957.

Devaney is married to his college sweetheart, the former Phyllis Wiley. His son Mike and daughter Patricia are both graduates of the University of Nebraska. He's a grandfather, too—Mike's family includes a daughter and a son. ■

Nebraska Head Coach Tom Osborne

Head Coach

Assistant Athletic Director

Having won more games (195) and coached more games (244) than any coach in Big Eight Conference history, Tom Osborne ranks as the second winningest active coach in NCAA Division I-A heading into his 21st season at the helm of the Huskers.

The veteran Nebraska mentor owns a career record of 195-46-3 for an .805 winning percentage. Only six coaches in the history of college football have ever won more games at one Division I school. In 1992, he passed Howard Jones, John Vaught and Hayden Fry and now ranks 15th on the all-time Division I coaching win list. With five wins this season, Osborne will join Bobby Bowden (Florida State) and Joe Paterno (Penn State) as the only active Division I-A coaches with 200 or more victories.

He is second in winning percentage among active coaches, a category he led from 1988 through last season when John Robinson returned to the collegiate ranks at Southern Cal. Robinson has 67 wins, 14 losses and two ties for an .819 percentage in seven years of college coaching.

Last season marked the ninth time an Osborne-coached team earned at least a share of the Big Eight crown. The other conference titles came in 1975, 1978, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1988 and 1991. After winning the conference title outright, Osborne led the Huskers to the Orange Bowl for the seventh time in his head coaching career. In fact, in each of his 20 previous seasons as the Husker mentor, Osborne has led Nebraska to a bowl game. Those 20 bowl appearances rank Osborne third all-time behind "Bear" Bryant and Joe Paterno.

All 20 of Osborne's bowl appearances have been against ranked teams, the last eight against teams ranked in the top five, all ranked higher than Nebraska. Not one to back away from a challenge, Osborne's Huskers have accepted the maximum number of preseason invites allowed by NCAA rules, playing in the Kickoff Classic twice, winning both times (44-6 over Penn State in the inaugural game in 1983 and 23-14 over Texas A&M in 1988).

In 1992, Osborne and the Huskers won their second straight conference crown in dramatic fashion, clinching the outright title with a win over Kansas State in Tokyo, Japan. After thumping the conference's second and third-place teams, Colorado and Kansas, on consecutive Saturdays by scores of 52-7 and 49-7, Nebraska slipped against Iowa State, losing to the Cyclones for the first time in 15 years, 19-10. But the Huskers still claimed the undisputed crown by rolling over Oklahoma, 33-9, and Kansas State, 38-24, in the last two games of the season.

The win over Kansas State—halfway around the world in the Coca-Cola Japan Bowl—in addition to clinching an outright Big Eight Conference championship, extended Nebraska's NCAA record for consecutive seasons with at least nine wins to 24. Under Coach Osborne, Nebraska's string of consecutive winning seasons has grown to an NCAA-record 31 and the Huskers have made 24 straight bowl appearances, the longest current string in college football and just one shy of the NCAA-record 25 set by Alabama from 1959 to 1983.

In 1992, Nebraska won the NCAA rushing title at 328.2 yards per game. It was NU's 10th rushing crown overall, its eighth in the last 13 years and its second in a row. Under Coach Osborne, the Huskers are 126-5-0 (.962) when rushing for 300 or more yards in a game, and have won 48 straight dating back to a 27-23 loss to Michigan in the 1986 Sunkist Fiesta Bowl. When the Huskers rush for 400 or more yards in a game, they are 67-0 in the Osborne era.

Among his many coaching honors are Big Eight Coach of the Year five times—1975, 1976, 1980, 1988 and 1992—and the American Football Coaches Association and Kodak District VI Coach of the Year six times—1978, 1979, 1980, 1983, 1987 and 1988. He was named the Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year by the Atlanta Quarterback Club and by Delta Air Lines in 1978 for his efforts toward the advancement of the higher and more notable aspects of college coaching. Osborne also earned National Coach of the Year honors from Football News in 1983.

National rankings are commonplace with Osborne. The Huskers were ranked as high as seventh in the Associated Press poll last season and have been ranked in every weekly AP poll since 1981, giving them a poll record of 188 consecutive weeks in the rankings. Since Osborne took over in 1973, Nebraska has been ranked in 311 of 314 AP polls, missing one week in 1977 and two in 1981.

During Osborne's 20 years as the NU mentor, the Huskers haven't just been consistently ranked, they have been ranked high. In fact, a study of the final AP polls from 1973 to 1992 finds that Nebraska is the second most successful football program in the nation based on rankings. Using a point system of 20 for first, 19 for second, 18 for third, etc., the Huskers scored 238 points to come in second, just six points behind Michigan and three points ahead of conference rival Oklahoma.

Through 20 seasons, Osborne's teams have posted an impressive 43-35-1 record against teams ranked by the Associated Press, easily the best record for a Nebraska coach, and he's the only Husker mentor to beat a No. 1-ranked team—a 17-14 win over Oklahoma in 1978. (His Hall of Fame predecessor, Bob Devaney, was 12-12-

2 against ranked teams during his Nebraska career, while all previous NU coaches were a combined 7-35-0.)

On and off the field, Osborne's players have consistently been highly honored. Five of his protégés have received the NCAA's highest honor for student athletes—selection as one of "Today's Top Six." That's the most for any individual sports program in the country. Husker gridders who received the honor are guard Randy Schleusener (1981), centers Dave Rimington (1983), Mark Traynowicz (1985) and Jake Young (1990), and linebacker Pat Tyrance (1991).

Last season, Mike Stigge earned his second Academic All-America award, boosting the total under Osborne to 29 Academic All-Americans. That figure, including seven two-time picks for a total of 36 first-team academic All-America certificates under Osborne and 46 in school history, is tops in the nation.

Including second-team picks, Nebraska has earned 41 total Academic All-America certificates under Osborne. Among that figure is current Nebraska offensive guard Rob Zatechka, who earned a second-team certificate in 1992.

Also in 1992, Will Shields continued the streak of award-winning excellence under Osborne's direction by bringing home the fourth Outland Trophy in Tom's head coaching career and the sixth in school history. The Cornhuskers made history under Osborne by producing three consecutive Outland Trophy winners (Rimington in 1981 and 1982 and Dean Steinkuhler in 1983) and two consecutive Lombardi Award winners (Rimington in 1982 and Steinkuhler in 1983), while also winning the 1983 Heisman Trophy (Mike Rozier).

During Osborne's career, 37 players have earned All-America honors, including five two-time picks for a total of 42 selections. Last year Travis Hill and Shields both earned first-team All-America honors.

Nebraska has also had 22 total NCAA postgraduate scholarship winners and 13 National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete recipients, including Stigge in 1992. In 1988, Mark Blazek was named the CBS/Toyota Leader of the Year.

Osborne was the first recipient of the Distinguished Nebraskalander Award from the Nebraskaland Foundation in 1982, and in 1983 he was named national coach of the year by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He's also an author, having published a book titled More Than Winning in 1985.

An outstanding high school athlete at Hastings High School in the mid-1950s, Osborne was named Nebraska Prep Athlete of the Year, then passed up major-college scholarship offers to attend the school from which his father and grandfather graduated before him, hometown Hastings College. He became a star quarterback and basketball player for Coach Tom McLaughlin, and in 1959 was named State College Athlete of the Year, becoming the first athlete in Nebraska history to win both the high school and college honors.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Hastings College in 1959, Osborne played three seasons in the National Football League, two with the Washington Redskins and one with the San Francisco 49ers, where his roommate was Jack Kemp, the former Congressman, presidential candidate and secretary of housing and urban development in the Bush administration.

In 1962, he contacted newly hired Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney, and obtained a position as a graduate assistant on the Husker staff. He continued in that capacity until he received his master's degree in 1963, then maintained a triple role of student, teacher and part-time coach at the university. He earned a doctorate in educational psychology in 1965, then elected to pursue coaching as a career in 1967, becoming the Huskers' full-time receivers coach—a decision NU fans have applauded ever since.

Over the next five years, Osborne was in charge of the Husker passing game, and in his last four seasons as an assistant coach, developed a wingback by the name of Johnny Rodgers, who would become Nebraska's first Heisman Trophy winner in 1972.

When Devaney announced after the 1972 Orange Bowl that he would retire from coaching at the end of the 1972 season, he elevated Osborne to assistant head coach and director of recruiting for his final campaign, and handpicked the 34-year-old as his successor.

Osborne was born Feb. 23, 1937 and is married to the former Nancy Tederman. They are the parents of a son, Mike, and two daughters, Ann and Susie. During the 1992 football campaign, son Mike and his wife Emily gave Osborne his first grandchild, William.

Mike followed in his father's footsteps by playing quarterback at Hastings College, and graduated in May 1987. ■

Which is why, if you see anything computer-oriented at your favorite tournament, game or match, chances are it'll be sporting three familiar letters:

MEET YOUR KID'S NEW ROMANTIC LIT TEACHER.

His passion for sacking quarterbacks is surpassed only by his love of Milton and e.e. cummings. Don't be too surprised. A good number of top people in the academic field have come straight from the football field, and with the shortage of teachers, we could use a lot more.

That's why the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program is giving $335,000 in teaching scholarships to the most motivated men and women in football programs across the country. They could be student managers, trainers, or even wide receivers with a love of physics. Just as long as their school is a member of the College Football Association, and they have the same passion for teaching that they displayed on the field.

What's more, Hitachi is also providing awards to the high schools of 24 College Football Association players, based on their ability in the classroom as well as on the gridiron.

There will always be tough challenges to face in education. But at Hitachi, we're making sure there'll be teachers who are ready to tackle them.

The National Guard: The Quiet Force.

Oklahoma football was reeling. NCAA probation had hit it hard, and a series of embarrassing off-field incidents had tarnished the school's long winning tradition. So, the Sooners regrouped and sought to bring back the same kind of winning feeling that had prevailed for decades.

Steve Owens was eager to help. An All-American and Heisman Trophy-winning halfback in 1969 at Oklahoma, Owens later became an all-Pro in the NFL with the Detroit Lions. When the Sooners called upon him to help bridge the school's past gridiron glories with current realities, Owens was ready. His sense of loyalty to his alma mater as an active member of the school's letterman association mirrored his devotion to his country and community as a member of the National Guard.

Owens exploded on the national scene as a junior, helping the Sooners to a 7 - 3 record. But his senior season as a Sooner was truly sensational. He rushed for 1,523 yards on a workhorse-like 358 carries and scored 23 touchdowns, finishing his career in Norman with seven NCAA records. The '69 Heisman award capped a stellar collegiate career.

But the NFL was not impressed with the records or the trophy. Detroit waited until the 19th pick in the draft to take Owens, who was considered too slow to make an impact in the big time. Too slow indeed. Owens missed most of the 1970 season — his first — with injuries, but was in top shape in '71. He became the first Lion ever to rush for more than 1,000 yards (1,035) and was voted all-Pro.

Owens was at the top of the NFL. But the reign was short-lived. A series of knee injuries limited Owens' career to just six seasons. He left the NFL to form a brokerage firm in Norman, Oklahoma and did color commentary on Sooner football broadcasts.

But when he was called upon a few years ago by Oklahoma to work with players in the wake of the school's problems, Owens was ready. He provided a link to the school's storied past and helped steer the new breed of Sooners back to success.

The same respect Steve Owens received from the opposition and receives from today's Sooners is also received by the National Guard. From the defense of America to community involvement, members of the National Guard provide the same level of commitment on every mission they serve.

Like Steve Owens, the members of the National Guard, true to its credo, are "Americans At Their Best".

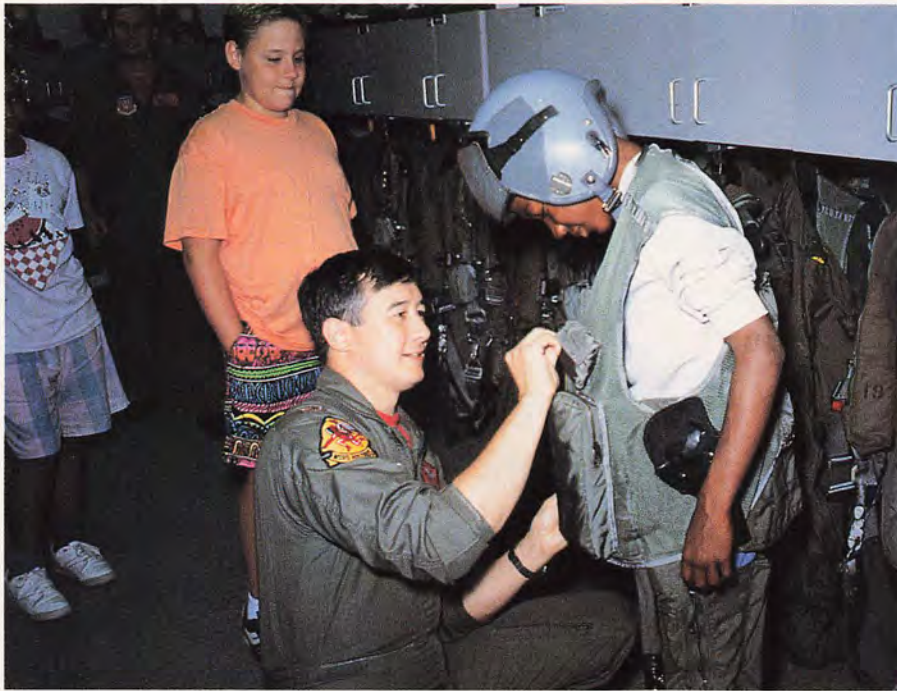

Steve Owens was winner of the Heisman Trophy in 1969.

Our Service To Country Begins In Our Communities.

The Cold War is over. America's military role is changing. And the National Guard is prepared to face any challenge.

As a fully-integrated partner with America's active forces, we're ready to answer our nation's call to arms. Just like we've done for over three hundred years. And reliance on the Guard is growing.

But the National Guard isn't only about fighting wars. We have more than one mission. In fact, we're the only military institution with state and federal missions.

You'll find us in the community developing projects like Starbase, Challenge, Youth Conservation Corps and Urban Youth Corps. Keeping young Americans off the street and helping them put their lives on track.

In our home states, we've responded to hundreds of natural and man-made disasters. Delivering food and medical supplies. Keeping the peace. Saving lives.

The National Guard also provides essential support to law enforcement agencies in their efforts to stop illegal drugs.

More and more we are being called upon to assist the citizens of foreign nations and serve as goodwill ambassadors around the globe.

We are Army and Air Guard members. Citizen-soldiers. Dedicated. Committed. Ready to serve and defend our communities, states and country. You'll find us at PTA meetings, company picnics, and little league baseball games. We're people just like you. We are the National Guard.

Americans at their best.

Americans At Their Best.

THE RED CROSS

FIRST AID TEAM

We've been keeping a "watchful eye" on Husker fans at Memorial Stadium since 1955. At every game, we work hand-in-hand with Eastern Ambulance, law enforcement, the Boy Scouts, UNL stadium and health officials, and the Bryan Memorial Special Medical Services Team.

Together, we make Memorial Stadium one of the safest sites for fans to watch a major sporting event.

"It wasn't until a bleak Saturday afternoon in another Big 8 stadium that I realized how lucky Nebraskans are to have Red Cross volunteers standing by. Two rows in front of me an elderly man suffered a heart attack. We could not find help in that stadium. There were no hustling Red Cross volunteers, no ushers, no one to help. Finally, a N.U. Team Trainer was alerted to the situation and came off the football field to the stand to assist the heart attack victim.

Now, when I see how quickly our Red Cross volunteers arrive on the scene and how "in charge" they are, I realize that the Big Red football program has been once again blessed with efficient, caring people."

A LOT OF FARMERS GREW GOLF CARTS THIS YEAR.

Others grew cookies. And others grew barrels of diesel fuel. How? By planting soybeans. You see, technology is discovering that there are a multitude of products which can be made with soybeans. Products like golf cart frames, cookies, and diesel fuel. And the number of different uses for soybeans is growing everyday.

Nebraska Soybean Program

Nebraska Athletic Scholarship Donors receive the personal satisfaction of aiding the entire Cornhusker Athletic Program, sharing in the victories and championships, and assisting deserving student-athletes in all 21 sports.

The cost of providing these academic and athletic opportunities has increased dramatically over the past few years. Although only two of the 21 sports offered at the University of Nebraska are "revenue producing" sports, the Athletic Department has remained a self-supporting auxiliary unit. It is one of the few institutions in the nation that receives NO state appropriations, institutional assistance or student fees.

Continued financial assistance from individuals and corporations who believe in Nebraska Athletics will allow us to maintain nationally prominent programs that provide our student-athletes the opportunity to excel, and exciting events for our fans. Scholarship donors receive certain benefits as outlined on the graph below. Donations are tax deductible, as allowed by law. You should consult your tax adviser to determine specific tax advantages. Most important, your support directly benefits the young men and women athletes attending this institution.

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department's Development and Marketing Advisory Boards

Nationally, there are many new factors affecting collegiate athletics. Gender equity, priority seating, fund raising policies, corporate sponsorships, and donor involvement are just some of the topics of concern. To maintain the level of excellence that has been achieved at the University of Nebraska, the Athletic Department feels that it is essential to have input from our fans and supporters when decisions and policies of this nature are made.

In the spring of 1993 the Nebraska Athletic Department created Development and Marketing Advisory Boards to provide the means to gather input and advice from supporters. Board members were selected from communities throughout the state who have demonstrated a sincere interest in the betterment of the Nebraska Athletic Program. These individuals have volunteered to serve a two-year term, and meet two or three times a year. The Athletic Department is grateful for their expert counsel, time and support. Listed below are the charter members of these advisory boards.

Quick Facts: A young team deep in talent is prepared to dive into the 1993-94 Nebraska women's swimming and diving season.

Sophomore Melanie Dodd returns to lead the Huskers after she earned All-America status last year in the individual freestyle events and as part of the 400 medley relay. She shined at the Big Eight Conference meet by winning the 50, 100, and 200 freestyle events and set Big Eight records in those events. Dodd earned Big Eight Conference Women's Swimmer-of-the-Year honors for her performance.

Joining Dodd will be Jane Glazebrook and Penny Heyns. Glazebrook, a sophomore from Australia, finished first in the 200 and 100 backstroke at the 1993 conference championships, with a Big Eight-record time in the 200 back. Heyns, a sophomore from South Africa, won the 100 breaststroke in a conference-record time and finished third in the 200 breast.

Junior Marci Bodner expects to be a force in the conference in the IM and back events. Bodner finished second in the 200 IM and the 400 IM and took third in the 200 back. Sophomore Anja Marjetic begins her second season as a Husker with high expectations. Marjetic, from Sarajevo, Bosnia, finished third in the 100 free and fourth in the 200 free at last year's Big Eight meet. Senior Heather Ericksen returns in the free and back events.

The diving squad looks to have a bright future also. The Huskers return the conference champions in both the 1- and 3-meter boards.

Junior Jennifer Harnly returns after winning the conference championship on the 1-meter board and finishing fourth on the 3 meter. Harnly set career bests on the 1 meter (434.70) and 3 meter (478.75). For her effort, Harnly was named the conference diver-of-the-year. The Huskers' other returning champion is junior Cheryl Kartye who captured the 3-meter championship and placed third on the 1-meter. Both are expected to be in the thick of the conference race this season also.

Senior Katie Savage and junior Julie Grimmer return and should push Harnly and Kartye. Savage took fifth and sixth on the 3-meter and 1-meter boards at the conference championships, respectively. Grimmer is back after placing fifth on the 1-meter and sixth on the 3-meter board. Sophomore Julie Jones will provide depth.

Quick Facts: The Nebraska Men's Swimming and Diving team, with talented returnees, appears to be set for another run at conference and national honors.

Leading the swimming team will be 1993 Big Eight Men's Swimmer-of-the-Year Justin Finney, who set Big Eight records in the 100 and 200 Butterfly. Finney finished 12th in the 100 Butterfly and was a member of the Huskers' ninth-place 200 free relay team. Others who were members of this team were Allan Kelsey, Francois Boshoff and Laren Tiltmann. Boshoff and Tiltmann are back for the 1993-94 season.

Also leading the Huskers will be a trio of seniors in Jonathan Kerr, Kyle Seebach and Justin Switzer. Kerr finished 16th at the NCAA meet in 1991, and looks to contend for honors this year in the 200 IM, 400 IM and the 200 Backstroke. Seebach is a three-time conference champ in the 200 fly, and the 500 and 1,650 freestyles. Switzer, a 4.0 student, was named an Academic All-American and should contend for honors in the distance swimming events.

Other swimmers returning are Christopher Ford in the back and free events and Doug Humphrey who will contribute in the free events.

The Huskers are also looking for good things from their divers. Leading the Huskers will be junior Kevin McMahon who earned his second All-American certificate last year. McMahon was the conference champion on both the 1- and 3-meter boards, and finished third on the 3-meter board at the NCAA championships. McMahon was named the Big Eight Men's Diver-of-the-Year for his efforts. Also back for diving coach Jim Hocking is senior John Arcaroli who finished fifth and sixth on the 1- and 3-meter boards, respectively. Providing depth will be senior Curtis Marti, who set his own personal best on the 3-meter board.

Head Coach Cal Bentz is looking forward to the 1993-94 season. "I think this will be a good team, and I look for a strong showing at the conference and national level," Bentz said.

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds.

These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Touch-down Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club, Rebounders and the courtesy car program.

Hire a Husker Student-Athlete

Husker football players are individuals who are team players and know what hard work is all about. They possess the intellect and motivation to strive for the best. These student-athletes also have the character to help your business succeed. By hiring a Husker football player in the summer, you will be given the opportunity to know them on a one-on-one basis for the duration of their collegiate career and at the same time, they will be given the opportunity to get to know you and your business.

Reliable:

The University of Nebraska football program is seeking part- and full-time jobs for players in the summer. This is a unique way that you can help support the UNL football program, and yet, you are the one who stands to gain the most. The young men you hire are responsible, and conscientious UNL students who have much to offer and much to learn.

Academic Excellence:

The UNL football team continues to lead the nation in Academic All-Americans. In the past 20 years, 36 Huskers have earned first-team academic All-America honors and 143 have been named to the Academic All-Big Eight team. Because of their football commitments and due to NCAA regulations, the summer is often the only opportunity these players have to receive on-the-job training. You can provide them with a unique opportunity and at the same time, your business will benefit from the skills of hardworking, dedicated students.

A Good Business Choice:

Nebraska's football teams achieve excellence because of the athlete's desire to work toward being the best he can be. The qualities that a player needs to excel are the same ones that help to achieve success in the business world. Did you know that during the school year, in addition to taking a full load of studies, the Huskers practice approximately 20 hours per week. In addition to that, each athlete also puts in time in the weight room. The only way team progress is made, is by individual commitments by each player. Imagine the rewards your business and staff will see by having a Husker put that same determination into your job this summer when the player has time to have a job, and do it well.

A Job For Summer or Holiday Break:

Nebraska football players are in search of valuable work experiences from mid-May to mid-August, as well as during Christmas and spring breaks. A variety of different jobs would be helpful, anything from internships to labor jobs. The needs of your company can be coordinated to match the needs of the athletes and vice versa. According to NCAA

Assistant Coach
Dan Young

Assistant Coach

rules, an athlete on scholarship is only allowed to have a paying job during the summer and holiday breaks. An athletic scholarship provides tuition, books, fees, room and board, however; all of the other personal expenses are the responsibility of the student-athlete. Many Huskers remain in Lincoln over the summer months to stay in school. You can provide these players with a much-needed means of support.

It's Easy to Help a Husker:

To help a Husker football player is as simple as a phone call to the football office to request more information. The placement directors, Assistant Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young, will be able to put you in touch with a football player who will be best-suited to fulfill your specific needs.

You Can Make a Difference:

Please take the time to evaluate your ability to help us. Our athletes need your support. In order for the Nebraska football program to compete against other prominent programs across the nation, we need to be able to help our Husker recruits find summer employment. This service is invaluable to the entire recruiting process. YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE! Rest assured, you will not only be helping a student-athlete make ends meet, but you will become an intricate part of recruiting and the Husker football program as a whole by pledging your support. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Assistant Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young or football secretary Joni Duff, at the Nebraska Football Office, (402) 472-3116. If you can help the football program and its players by providing one or more jobs, please call today.

NCAA Rules and Regulations

What Every Alumnus or Booster of the University of Nebraska Should Know

Your support of Nebraska athletics is very much appreciated. However, there are restrictions regarding your involvement with student-athletes. Help Nebraska assure compliance with NCAA rules and regulations by taking a few moments to read this information. The eligibility of Nebraska student-athletes and reputation of the department and university depend greatly upon your cooperation.

Winning Tradition

Supporters of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are proud of Nebraska's rich tradition in both academic accomplishments and athletic achievements. Student-athletes, coaches, and other administrators have worked extremely hard to place Nebraska at the head of the class academically and among the most prestigious athletic programs in the country. Nebraska's tradition is rich in Academic All-Americans, NCAA Today's Top Six Award Winners, Big-Eight Conference titles and national championships.

Most importantly, Nebraska athletics has built and maintained tradition and excellence based on integrity. Winning is important at Nebraska, but winning the RIGHT way by following the NCAA rules that govern the recruitment and treatment of student-athletes is a must!

The goal of this pamphlet is to educate you regarding NCAA rules that apply to you when interacting with student-athletes.

Key Point:

You are considered a representative of Nebraska just by being an alumnus, friend, or fan.

Key Rule—NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5.1:

In Division I, representatives of an institution's athletics interests are prohibited from making in-person, on-or-off-campus recruiting contacts, or written or telephonic communications with a prospect or the prospect's relatives or legal guardians.

Interpretations

1. A representative of a Division I institution is prohibited from making in-person recruiting contact with a prospect and his or her parents/guardians—on or off campus.

Limited Exception: A representative may have contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has already signed a National Letter-of-Intent and the institution is aware that you are making these contacts in regard to the employment.

2. A Division I representative is prohibited from writing or telephoning a prospect and his or her parents or legal guardians.

Limited Exception: A representative may have a phone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member and the representative is not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility. The representative must refer any questions about the University's athletic program to the athletic department.

3. A representative is prohibited from contacting a prospect's coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.

Limited Exception: NCAA rules do not preclude a representative from viewing a prospect's contest on the representative's own initiative, but the representative may not contact the prospect.

The most common NCAA rules infraction relates to the extra benefits rule. An extra benefit would include provision of any transportation, meals, clothes, entertainment, preferential loan terms or other benefit offered to a student-athlete unavailable to the general student population.

A representative may not provide any such extra benefit to an enrolled student-athlete or their family. Simply put, you may not treat a student-athlete any differently than a student who does not participate in athletics.

Key Contact:

The NCAA--Working Together Toward a Common Goal

By David Housel

What is the NCAA?

The question could be answered simply by saying "National Collegiate Athletic Association," but in reality the NCAA is much more than four words.

It is also much more than a staff working in Overland Park, Kan., on administrative details of America's intercollegiate athletics programs.

To say that the NCAA is a staff or a group of people is to misunderstand not only what the NCAA is, but what its goals and objectives are.

In reality, the NCAA is composed of some 1,000 colleges and universities across the United States. The NCAA, in its truest sense, is every member institution working together for the common good of all. It is democracy in action. All rules, all policies, all procedures, even the directions and goals of the NCAA are determined by the colleges and universities working and voting together in a common body.

As with any organization made up of individuals or member institutions, the requirements in any given area are continually changing in response to the desires of the membership. But the goal is always the same--a sound mind, a sound body, a spirit that is unafraid and a clean sports program that develops those qualities individually, institutionally and nationally.

Perhaps no area of the NCAA comes under more inspection than the enforcement program. Yet, even there, the NCAA is responsive to the needs and concerns of the individual institutions working together for what they perceive to be the common good. The colleges and universities make the rules. The NCAA staff, working under the direction of the colleges and universities, simply administers the programs designed by the members. And it is the Committee on Infractions, which is comprised of college administrators from around the country, that determines sanctions levied against fellow members.

Just as integrity is the key to an academic program, it also is vital to healthy competition between NCAA member institutions. The colleges and universities seek to create an atmosphere in which all institutions have an equal chance to recruit America's outstanding student-athletes. It is then up to member schools to help the individual student-athletes be as good as they can be, both in the classroom and in their athletics endeavors.

For all of the attention it receives, the enforcement program is but one small part of the NCAA's total concern. The NCAA administers 79 championships in three divisions in 21 sports. More than 18,000 men and women student-athletes compete annually in these events, designed to determine national champions.

Other programs under the auspices of the NCAA include the National Youth Sports Program. NUSP is a unique summer program that offers sports skills instruction, competition, improved physical fitness, and enrichment opportunities for economically disadvantaged youth between the ages of 10 and 16.

The NCAA conducts free Youth Education through Sports (YES) clinics in many sports, annually providing thousands of youngsters expert instruction from the best collegiate coaches, as well as important information about academics and substance-abuse prevention.

The NCAA and the NCAA Foundation also administer several scholarship programs that benefit not only deserving student-athletes but also

The NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Program has distributed more than $5.7 million to some 2,500 student-athletes for full-time graduate study; two Walter Byers Postgraduate Scholarship winners annually receive $10,000 renewable stipends; the NCAA Ethnic Minority Enhancement Program and the NCAA Women's Enhancement Program each provide scholarship awards to qualified individuals for postgraduate study in sports administration; and the NCAA makes available grants to undergraduate student-athletes who have exhausted their institutional financial aid opportunity and who wish to complete their undergraduate degrees.

More information about these scholarship programs is available from the NCAA administration and finance group.

The NCAA also sponsors one of America's foremost honors programs, which is designed to recognize yesterday's and today's top athletes, and the contributions of intercollegiate athletics as a whole to the country and society.

It has been said, and rightfully so, that sports is but a microcosm of society. Never before has it been more true, for sport and for the NCAA.

However, the goal of the NCAA is still the same--America's colleges and universities working together for the common good of higher education, and the young men and women who study and compete for NCAA member institutions.

Chancellor's Club

Mehlin Plans to be 'Center' of Husker Offense

By Peter Theoharis

Throughout his career at Nebraska, Ken Mehlin has been on the move, and this year is no different.

After starting last year at left guard for the Cornhuskers, the 6-0, 275-pound, Mehlin has been moved to center to replace 1992 All Big-Eight pick Jim Scott.

It's just another adventure for the 1992 Phillips 66 Academic All-Big Eight and GTE Academic All-District VII selection.

He entered the university as a walk on in the fall of 1989 foregoing the option of playing for smaller colleges such as the University of Nebraska-Kearney and Bethany (Kan.) College.

"I really thought if I wanted to play football at the college level I wanted to play it at the Division I level," he said. "I didn't just want to play at a small college, work hard and not get any recognition. If I was going to work hard to play football I wanted it to be at a major Division I college."

That work has paid off.

Mehlin, is one of three returning starters, along with Zach Wiegert and Lance Lundberg on the offensive line, for a team which led the nation in rushing in 1992 by averaging 328.2 yards per game.

"I was kind of doubtful coming in as a freshman with all the scholarship players and all the players who had played Class A football, big high school football," he said.

"Changing from eight-man to 11-man football was probably the toughest thing to overcome but what helped me the most was playing in the Shrine Bowl in 1989."

Prior to that, the graduate of Humboldt High school, which plays eight-man football, had never competed in an 11-man contest.

"It allowed me to know that I could play 11-man football," he said.

Mehlin said the biggest difference in adding more men to the field was the necessity of proper blocking techniques.

"I was average strength for a lineman coming in my freshman year," he said. "In Class D-1 I did play against a lot of good players but I was usually able to move the guys around. That changed a lot coming up here, playing against a lot stronger and probably more talented players."

"Back in Humboldt, we didn't really talk about what technique you use we just said this is your guy so block him. Here the main concern for an offensive lineman is footwork. If you take one wrong little step or cross your feet, you're going to get beat. You can't afford to make any type of technique errors."

Offensive line coach Milt Tenopir works on smoothing out the technique the day a lineman walks through the red doors for the first time.

"The coaches sit down and teach you what to do from the very first day you are here," Mehlin said. "They tell you what steps to take, and what their philosophy is on plays."

The agribusiness major, holding a 3.58 cumulative grade-point average, said that philosophy should make the transition to center easier. As a guard last year, he was required to know what the center did on each play, so he is familiar with the requirements of his new position.

"Pretty much on everything you have to know what the center is going to do. So knowing the plays and picking up the different techniques of the center wasn't that big of a deal," he said. "I still wasn't good at some of the techniques but through spring ball and fall ball I've improved on the techniques and learned the little tricks of the trade."

One technique Mehlin is trying to master is the trademark quick snap of former Husker Dave Rimington, a Lombardi Award and two-time Outland Trophy winner.

"I would say you have to have anticipation of the snap. To get a good first step and a quick first step," Mehlin said. "You know when the ball is going to be snapped so as you're snapping you have to take that first step to get the jump on the defensive lineman."

"Dave Rimington is probably where that came from, about trying to get that first step."

He sees it all transpiring into a successful senior campaign.

"It is going to be a good year. We have a lot of talented guys on the offensive line with a lot of experience," he said. "Some of the younger guys who don't really have that much game experience are playing well. After the first couple of plays in a game you're not really a rookie anymore."

"I didn't just want to play at a small college, work hard and not get any recognition. If I was going to work hard to play football I wanted it to be at a major Division I college." - Ken Mehlin

Mehlin, who is scheduled to graduate in May, showed he wasn't "a rookie" at the start of the 1992 season when he earned a scholarship after toiling for three years as an understudy.

"It was a great feeling," he said. "Coming in my freshman year, I didn't know if I'd be able to make it here and play at all. Earning a scholarship is something I'll never forget."

"It takes quite a while to learn the different techniques and plays. I think it took me a couple of years to learn the plays and how they worked. When you realize why things happen everything falls into place. After your third year here you don't even have to realize what to do you just go."

Mehlin's calculations were correct. After his third year he earned his scholarship and the starting position on the offensive line for the most prolific rushing attack in college football.

The University of North Texas

Excellence That Makes a Difference.

Founded in 1890 as a training school for teachers, today the University of North Texas is one of the state's Big Five universities, Texas' largest and most academically challenging institutions.

UNT students--more than 26,400--come from a variety of ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds, reflecting all the diversity of the North Texas region. While UNT enrolls students from all 50 states and almost 100 foreign nations, roughly two-thirds come from the Dallas-Forth Worth Metroplex, the largest metropolitan area in the state.

UNT enjoys a uniquely advantaged location. The campus of 90 buildings and 425 acres is in Denton, the apex of the Metroplex, and only minutes from Dallas and Fort Worth. Yet, Denton remains one of the most pleasant and uncongested small cities in Texas.

North Texas' positive educational environment attracts students who come to succeed. Our faculty have achieved regional, national and international prominence in scholarly and creative activities, as well as excellence in teaching.

Students chose UNT--the most comprehensive university in the North Texas region--for reasons ranging from its internationally renowned music school, the science research opportunities it offers undergraduates, the international slant of an already-comprehensive business school, and the Honors Program, to the Classic Learning Core, recognized by the National Endowment for the Humanities as an outstanding liberal arts program.

Students enjoy enhanced opportunities to put their learning to work through the university's relationships with surrounding communities, business and government agencies. Students can participate in study and research directed at specific problems and issues brought to the university through its partnerships with the region. This promotes meaningful learning and prepares students to succeed in the world beyond the campus.

Since 1890, more than 128,000 UNT degrees have been awarded. More than 59,000 alumni live in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Their many accomplishments are a source of pride and evidence of the excellence of this university.

Bennett Set to Assume Dual Role For Huskers in '93

By Keith Mann

Nebraska's 1993 football schedule poster features the Huskers' potent offense. Pictured amongst speedy skill position players and massive offensive linemen is senior place kicker Byron Bennett.

That's not an unusual position for Bennett, whose chances to shine on the football field come only a few times each game. However, when those opportunities arise, there is often more pressure on Bennett to perform than that of the average player.

The average fan doesn't remember a 40-yard field goal in the second quarter or 50 consecutive extra points. Instead, fans tend to reflect on the potential game-winner with time running down. That type of pressure can be hard to deal with, but every good kicker imagines himself in that position, according to Bennett.

"That is a kicker's dream," Bennett said. "Everyone wants to get a chance like that and make it, but you feel guilty if you get the chance and miss."

That type of opportunity was expected to be the norm rather than the exception for the highly-recruited kicker from Rowlett, Texas. Bennett was an all-district selection at Lakeview Centennial High School where he kicked a state-long 53-yard field goal as a senior.

However, Bennett's career at Nebraska immediately got off to a rocky start his freshman year. In preseason drills Bennett tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right (kicking) leg which was a tremendous setback both physically and emotionally.

"I was recruited for having a strong leg and the first thing that happens to me here was blowing my knee," Bennett said. "That was real tough on me. One day the coaches were telling me I had a chance to be the starting kicker and the next day I was on crutches. I thought my world was over with. It took a while to get readjusted and make the decision to stick with it."

Bennett recovered in time to handle the kickoffs as a redshirt freshman for the Huskers in 1990. With the graduation of senior Gregg Barrios following the 1990 season, Bennett took over the place-kicking chores the following year.

Bennett had a solid sophomore year as he was the third-leading scorer for the Huskers with 78 points. He converted 11 of 18 field goals, including a career-best 47-yarder against Kansas State. Despite the success that Bennett enjoyed in 1991, most memories of that season center on two negative moments.

First, Bennett had a nightmare performance against Arizona State.

Overall, Bennett was 1 of 5 on field goal attempts, including two that hit the uprights and one that was blocked. In that same game, Bennett also had an extra point attempt blocked. Later in the season, Bennett had a potential game-winning field goal blocked in a Big Eight showdown with Colorado. Bennett said that putting those two moments behind him were an important part of his development.

"Some people thought the Arizona State game was kind of neat, but it was definitely one of the down highlights of my career," Bennett said. "Getting the field goal blocked at Colorado was another tough situation."

Those two setbacks didn't hinder Bennett from turning in another fine performance as a junior. Last season, Bennett was the Huskers second-leading scorer and was 7 of 10 on field goals. He also made 50 of 51 PAT attempts to improve to 97 of 101 for his career. Bennett has 151 total points in his career and needs just 54 points to pass Barrios as Nebraska's top kick scorer.

That possibility was a pleasant surprise to Bennett. Passing Barrios would give Bennett the satisfaction that he has had an outstanding career at Nebraska.

"I actually didn't know about that until a couple of weeks ago," Bennett said. "I'm excited about that. I feel like if I can get to where Gregg was I can set my mark at Nebraska."

That goal is just one of many things Bennett is looking forward to in his senior season. First, the Huskers will open with games against North Texas and Texas Tech, both from Bennett's home state.

"Any time you play a team from your home state you naturally want to beat them," Bennett said. "North Texas is also my mom's alma mater so it would be good to beat them for bragging rights."

Beginning with today's opener, fans may notice Bennett's presence more than in the past. The senior will be serving double-duty as both the place-kicker and punter for the Huskers.

Bennett is confident in his abilities as a punter, however, he realizes that the standard at that position is high. Mike Stigge held that position for four years and set the Nebraska career record for punting average.

"Right now I feel like I'm punting well, but I've got big shoes to fill with Mike being gone," Bennett said. "There's a lot of pressure from the coaches and from the whole state for me to perform. I've got to produce the same results as Mike did. Anything less than that will be considered mediocre."

Graduation also is on the horizon for Bennett who is scheduled to finish school in December with a degree in criminal justice and public affairs. Bennett was also recently engaged to his high school sweetheart, Steffani Jones, who attends Texas A&M University. The two plan to be married some time next summer.

However, before Bennett moves on with future plans he is intent on leaving a mark at Nebraska, not only personally, but as a team in 1993.

"We've got a lot of seniors that came in together with a goal of winning Big Eight and national championships," Bennett said. "We've accomplished one of those and we feel like we've got it all this season. We are definitely going to give going undefeated and winning a national championship a shot this year."

Hometown: Rowlett, Texas

Hobbies: Fishing, hunting
Sports Idols: Drew Pearson and Roger Staubach
Favorite NFL Team: Dallas Cowboys

Favorite Musicians: Garth Brooks and George Strait
Favorite Actor/Actress: Sigourney Weaver/Robert DeNiro

Best Moment as a Husker: Oklahoma two years ago when I made two field goals and we clinched a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Athletic/career goals: I'd like to have a chance to make it in the pros if I get the opportunity. Beyond that I'd like to get a job in the public relations field.

Senior Byron Bennett is set to kick off his third season as the Huskers' starting place-kicker. Bennett needs just 54 points this season to become Nebraska's all-time leading scorer among kickers.

1993-94 Nebraska Wrestling

Head Coach: Tim Neumann

Year/Record: 9th/103-40-4 (.714)

Asst. Coaches: Mark Cody, Brad Penrith

1993 Dual Record: 10-2

1993 Big 8 Finish: First

1993 NCAA Finish: Third

Lettermen

Returning/Lost: 4/8

Returning

All-Americans: Mike Eierman, Frank Velazquez

Quick Facts: Coming off the finest season in school history, the Nebraska wrestling team will enter the 1993-94 season minus eight seniors, but with a group of young, talented wrestlers who will attempt to duplicate last year's accomplishments.

A year ago, Coach Tim Neumann's Huskers produced a season full of milestones and firsts at Nebraska. The first sign of things to come was a second-place finish at the prestigious Las Vegas Invite in December. In January, Nebraska finished second at the National Dual Meet Championships in Lincoln. In the semifinal match of that meet, the Huskers stunned eventual national champion Iowa, ending the Hawkeyes' 51-match unbeaten streak. In February, Neumann became the all-time winningest coach at Nebraska, and collected his 100th career victory. In March, the Huskers added their first-ever Big Eight Championship and a third-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

Two of last year's six All-Americans return to lead the 1993-94 squad. Senior Frank Velazquez posted a 24-7 record, captured a Big Eight title at 134 pounds and finished seventh at the NCAA Championships in his first season with Nebraska. At 142 pounds, junior Mike Eierman posted a 30-14 record last year and finished an impressive fifth at the national meet. Sophomore Chad Nelson also has varsity experience at 167 pounds and will be expected to help lead the Huskers. Despite the lack of returning experience, the Huskers have a talented stock of youngsters prepared to step into starting positions in 1993-94, according to Neumann.

"People are going to be surprised by some of our young people," Neumann said. "We lost a lot of great wrestlers from last year's team, but we feel like we've got some excellent people to fill those spots this season."

Those young people will have to step forward in order for the Huskers to be successful, as Nebraska will once again face one of the nation's toughest schedules. Nebraska will host the National Duals this season, which will feature the nation's top teams. In addition, the Huskers will have six home duals and also host the Great Plains Open. In the Big Eight, traditional powers Iowa State and Oklahoma State will be NU's toughest challenges.

First-Team Academic All-America Huskers

Academics have always been an important part of the student-athlete's career at Nebraska. One of the highest honors is to be named to the GTE Academic All-America team, along with other top-notch student-athletes across the nation. To qualify, athletes must be a leading contributor to the team and post a 3.2 cumulative GPA. Nebraska had four first-team honorees in 1992-93, two second-team honorees, one third-team member and seven more who made the district team. The Husker football team had one player named to the first team and another selected to the second team. Under Coach Tom Osborne, the Huskers have accumulated 36 first-team GTE Academic All-Americans, with seven being named twice. Overall, Nebraska has produced a nation-leading 49 first-team Academic All-America.

The Huskers have consistently led the Big Eight in academic honors and the 1992-93 academic year was no exception. To qualify for the Big Eight Honor Roll, each letterwinner must have posted a 3.0 grade point average during the 1992-93 academic year. Last year, a total of 150 Cornhusker athletes were named to the Big Eight end-of-the-year Honor Roll. The nearest competitor, the University of Missouri, fell short by 47 with 103. The list includes 11 Huskers who recorded straight A's during the year including: Joel Cornwell (football), Sandra Fein (cross country, track), Ann Flannery (tennis), Stephanie Flood (golf), Stephanie Hupp (golf), Denise McMillan (softball), Josh Saegert (gymnastics), Theresa Stelling (cross country), Sherri Sutter (cross country), Joy Taylor (gymnastics) and Rob Zatechka (football). Jennings was also named the GTE Academic All-America Player of-the-Year for women's basketball.

To qualify for first-team Phillips 66 Academic All-Big Eight honors, a player must be a starter or important reserve and post a 3.0 GPA. In 1992, Nebraska proved that academics and athletics can go hand in hand as it led the Big Eight with six football players, and 69 Huskers from 20 other sports earning first-team honors. Under Coach Tom Osborne in the last 20 years, 143 Huskers have earned first-team honors, which leads the Big Eight by a large margin (see complete list below).

The highest honor of all is to be named to the NCAA elite "Today's Top Six." Five of Tom Osborne's players have received this honor. That is the most honorees for any program in any sport in the country. In 1991, Husker volleyball standout Janet Kruse earned recognition for her academic achievements by being named to this list, giving Nebraska nine in all.

1993-1994 Nebraska Women's Gymnastics

Head Coach: Dan Kendig
Year/Record: 1st
1993 Record: 12-7
1993 Big Eight Record/Finish: 5-1
1993 Big Eight Championships: 2nd
1993 Midwest Regional Finish: 7th
1993 NCAA Finish: DNQ
Letterwinners Returning: 8
Letterwinners Lost: 1

Quick Facts: The Nebraska Women's Gymnastics team heads into the 1993-94 season healthy and anxious to improve upon its finish from the 1993 season. Nebraska is armed with eight returning gymnasts from last year's team and a new head coach.

Dan Kendig, a former assistant coach at Nebraska from 1980 to 1983, will take over the helm of the Huskers this season, under Francis Allen, Director of Nebraska Gymnastics. "I am pleased to have an opportunity to work with the Nebraska women's gymnastics program and with Francis Allen," Kendig said. "Nebraska has one of the top programs in the country. Every coach and sport has always been given all the support they need to be successful. I'm excited to have the opportunity to return to Nebraska."

The nucleus of the Huskers last season was junior Lori Phillips and sophomores Martha Jenkins, Jennifer Hawkinson, Nicole Duval and Kristi Camp. This young but talented group of athletes fought through numerous injuries to place second at the Big Eight Championships in Norman, Okla., last year.

Hawkinson led the way with a score of 39.15 to win the all-around title and set a new school record. She also had personal-best scores of 9.85 on the uneven bars and the floor exercise. Duval, another sophomore standout, also set two school records during the season. Duval scored a 9.90 on the balance beam and a 9.90 in the floor exercise. Phillips had another strong season for Nebraska. Phillips competed in the all-around for the first time in her career and also had a personal-best score of 9.80 on the floor exercise. Sophomore Jenkins also did well for the Huskers with a personal best of 9.85 on the uneven bars and a 9.80 on the vault, the balance beam and the floor exercise. Freshman Joy Taylor brought new life to the Huskers with personal bests of 9.80 on the floor exercise and the uneven bars. Others competing for the Huskers were Meghan Nicolini, Camp and Sinclair. Nebraska failed to qualify for the NCAA meet for the second year in a row, a trend the current team is prepared to end.

The Huskers only lose one letterwinner from last year's squad. Three new Husker recruits will join a veteran squad in their quest for the 1994 Big Eight crown. The new recruits are Shelly Bartlett from Spokane, Wash., Shelly Johnson from Laramie, Wyo., and Kim DeHaan from Sioux Falls, S.D.

"We are going to try to stay healthy this year, that's the key," said Kendig. "The girls have been training real hard during the summer and have put forth an extra effort. The key to our success though will be the injury factor. If we can stay away from injuries we will do okay. I believe that it will be easy for us to be successful here at Nebraska with our work ethic."

1993-94 Men's Gymnastics

Dennis Harrison
1993 Big Eight
All-Around Champion

Head Coach: Francis Allen
(Nebraska, 1964)

Year: 25th

Assistant Coach: Jim Howard

1993 Record: 7-0

1993 NCAA Finish: 2nd

1993 Big Eight Finish: 1st

Letterwinners lost: 2

Letterwinners Returning: 7

Quick Facts: The Huskers, under head coach Francis Allen, enter the 1993-94 season without the aid of two co-captain seniors, Josh Saegert and Louis Ball, but are returning seven letterwinners, including four-time All-American Dennis Harrison. Other returning All-Americans include Che Bowers, Sumner Darling, Richard Grace, who won the floor exercise at the NCAA Championships last year; and Rick Kieffer. Other returning Huskers include Burkett Powell and Jason Christie.

The Huskers went undefeated throughout the regular season and were the top-ranked team all year with a 284.31 scoring average. The national title eluded them, however, as Nebraska finished runner-up at the NCAA Championship with a score of 275.50, one point behind Stanford. This score of 275.50 broke a streak of ten-straight meets of scoring 280 points or more, and one more would have tied the school and NCAA record.

Coach Allen enters his 25th season as head coach of the Huskers with the hopes of winning an eighth national title. Allen is the second winningest gymnastics coach in the nation with seven national championships, two behind leader Gene Wettstone of Penn State. At last year's NCAA Championship meet, Harrison and Darling placed third and fourth in the all-around competition, with scores of 57.550 and 57.450, respectively. Grace earned All-America honors by winning the floor exercise with a score of 9.840. Che Bowers placed third on the pommel horse with a score of 9.400 and second on the horizontal bar with a score of 9.500. Dennis Harrison finished sixth on the parallel bars with a score of 8.900, and Rick Kieffer placed fifth on the rings with a score of 9.550.

With the healthy return of these seven letterwinners, the Huskers are looking forward to another successful season under Coach Francis Allen.

Nebraska Songs, Chants and Yells

THERE IS NO PLACE LIKE NEBRASKA

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

HAIL VARSITY

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheers for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

"THE CORNHUSKER"

(The official field song for Nebraska)
Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraski.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We are bound to win,
And we're going to win today.

CHORUS

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

Nebraska Trophy Winners

Johnny Rodgers 1972 Heisman Trophy

One of the most exciting players in the history of collegiate football, Rodgers won the 38th annual Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding collegiate player in 1972. A two-time consensus All-America wingback, Rodgers became the Huskers' first Heisman winner as he outdistanced Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt and Husker teammate Rich Glover in 1972. The most dangerous player ever to wear the Cornhusker

Scarlet and Cream, "Johnny the Jet" threatened to go all the way every time he touched the ball, as he averaged 15 yards per touch during his junior year, which still stands as an NCAA record. He also shares the NCAA record for most punt returns for touchdowns in a career, with seven.

Mike Rozier 1983 Heisman Trophy

Rozier capped an outstanding three-year career by becoming the Huskers' second Heisman Trophy winner after a phenomenal senior season which saw him rewrite the Husker rushing and scoring record book. He outdistanced Brigham Young quarterback Steve Young to win the award after piling up an NCAA-record 929 yards on the ground in the Huskers' final four regular season games. Rozier finished the 1983 season with 2,148 yards, the second highest in NCAA history at the time behind USC's Marcus Allen (2,342 on 403 carries in 1981). However, considering Rozier's NCAA season record 7.8 yards per carry, he would have amassed 3,148 yards in '83 if he had carried the ball as often as Allen.

Larry Jacobson 1971 Outland Trophy

Nebraska's first Outland winner, Jacobson won the trophy as the defensive left tackle on the Huskers' 1971 national championship team. A Lombardi finalist, the 6-6, 247-pound native of Sioux Falls, S.D., garnered All-America and All-Big Eight honors during his senior campaign. Jacobson also excelled in the classroom and was the top vote-getter on the 1971 Academic All-America team.

Rich Glover 1972 Outland Trophy & Lombardi Award

A two-time All-American, Glover capped an outstanding senior year by sweeping national honors in 1972, winning both the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award. Glover's Outland gave Nebraska the distinction of being the first school to win back-to-back Outlands, a feat that would be accomplished a decade later by Huskers' Dave Rimington and Dean Steinkuhler. The 6-1, 234-pound middle guard from Jersey City, N.J., also finished third in the 1972 Heisman balloting behind Husker teammate Johnny Rodgers and Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt.

Dean Steinkuhler 1983 Outland Trophy & Lombardi Award

Nebraska again boasted the top lineman in 1983 as Dean Steinkuhler, a 6-3, 270-pound guard from Burr, Neb., swept national honors by lugging home the Outland and Lombardi trophies, giving Nebraska an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophies and two straight Lombardi Awards. With Steinkuhler's teammate

Mike Rozier winning the Heisman, Nebraska is the only school to win the top three honors in a season. In fact, the Huskers have done it twice, first turning the trick in 1972 when Johnny Rodgers won the Heisman and Rich Glover took home the Outland and Lombardi.

Dave Rimington 1981 Outland Trophy 1982 Outland Trophy & Lombardi Award

Possibly the most decorated offensive lineman ever to play college football, Rimington became the first and only player to win back-to-back Outland Trophies. As a junior in 1981, Rimington was named Big Eight Player-of-the-Year by both wire services and won his first Outland, setting the stage for his senior year, which he capped by sweeping the 1982 Outland and Lombardi trophies. A two-time consensus All-America center from Omaha, Neb., Rimington became the second Husker to sweep the lineman awards and his consecutive Outland honors brought Nebraska the distinction of being the only school to win back-to-back Outland Trophies, as he duplicated Larry Jacobson (1971) and Rich Glover's (1972) feat single-handedly.

Will Shields 1992 Outland Trophy

A consensus All-American in 1992, Will Shields became Nebraska's fifth Outland Trophy winner, giving Nebraska six awards overall. The 6-1, 305-pound offensive guard from Lawton, Okla., helped the Huskers win three NCAA rushing titles in four years. A unanimous All-Big Eight pick as a senior, Shields was a three-time first-team All-Big Eight selection.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1993 LINCOLN, NE. JOURNAL 19

NU again dominates Big Eight

BY CURT MCKEEVER
 Lincoln Journal

There was a changing of the guard at the top of the Nebraska athletic program this year, but the Cornhuskers hardly looked like they were in a period of transition.

For the 14th straight year, Nebraska won the Big Eight Conference all-sports championship, a mythical title attached to the school that has proven to have the best men's and women's athletic program.

Using results from the regular-season standings (or conference tournament results for those sports which do not play a regular-season league schedule) in the 21 Big Eight intercollegiate sports, the Cornhuskers easily outdistanced runner-up Kansas 109-89-83.

The results show "a well-rounded, broad-based program," first-year Athletic Director Bill Byrne said. "That's one of the reasons I was attracted to Nebraska in the first place."

Records show that the Lincoln Journal began tabulating the Big Eight all-sports race in 1980, five years after the conference had stopped naming an official winner.

From 1929-74, Nebraska was the champion just three times — in 1930, 37 and 41. Since 1980, the Cornhuskers have been the combined winner each year.

The Lincoln Journal points formula, devised last year, accommodates for the different numbers of teams fielded in each sport. For those in which eight compete, points were awarded on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. A scaled formula was used for sports that had less than eight. For example, four schools compete in swimming, so points were issued on a 50 percent scale.

Byrne said he is committed to continuing a broad-based program for men and women.

"The reason we're in the business is to offer opportunity to young people," he said. "I don't know of an athletic director in Division I (of the NCAA) who doesn't want to offer as many sports as possible. At the same time, we all have serious financial problems."

Byrne said the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics plans to sponsor a national all-sports championship for the first time this fall.

During a season in which Byrne succeeded 25-year athletic director Bob Devaney, Nebraska:

- Won seven conference championships (football, wrestling, men's gymnastics, men's swimming, women's indoor and outdoor track and volleyball). That was more than twice the number of titles won by any other school.
- Finished in the upper division of the conference standings in 15 of 21 sports.
- And averaged 5.23 points per sport. Only Colorado was better at 5.51, but the Buffaloes compete in a conference-low 13 sports.

The Cornhuskers' combined score last year was 103.44. Men's teams were mostly responsible for the higher 1993 combined total, as they improved to 56.51 from 50.69. Iowa State finished second in the men's all-sports race with 47.88 points, but the Cyclones are the only other Big Eight program to field 11 men's sports.

Quick Facts: The Nebraska volleyball team heads into its 19th season with its usual array of highly talented athletes and its continued high aspirations of a national championship.

1993 begins like so many seasons for Nebraska, as head coach Terry Pettit and the Huskers face the task of replacing great players lost to graduation. Missing from the Husker starting lineup this season will be perhaps two of the school's all-time best athletes in Eileen Shannon and Stephanie Thater.

Pettit, who begins his 17th season with the Huskers, does return eight letterwinners from last season's 22-6 team that captured its 17th straight Big Eight Conference championship and made its 11th straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. Four of the returnees started last season and are led by three-year starter Nikki Stricker. Stricker, a senior setter, is joined by junior Kim Tonniges and senior Laura Luther, both of whom have two years of starting experience, and sophomore Allison Weston, a starter as a freshman last year.

Pettit believes that these players have the potential to become an excellent team and said, "When people see us play, in some ways, it will be a typical Nebraska team with exceptional athletes on the court and playing well. But what we hope to be doing in 1993 will be a little different from what people have seen in the past from Husker teams."

Nebraska will be facing another strong field of adversaries in 1993 on its drive toward a national title, including 1992 NCAA Tournament participants Penn State, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Georgia, Louisiana State, Notre Dame, Santa Clara, Illinois, Texas, Houston and Big Eight rival Colorado.

Nebraska, which has led the nation in average attendance for the last three seasons, will host 12 home matches in 1993. ■

Quick Facts: A pair of talented seniors, David Iteffa and Theresa Stelling, are expected to lead the 1993 Nebraska men's and women's cross country teams.

Iteffa will lead a men's team that returns nine letterwinners from last year's squad, which finished sixth at the Big Eight Championships. He captured the league's individual title, the first Husker to win an individual championship since 1970. Iteffa went on to finish second at the NCAA District V meet and 50th at the NCAA Championships.

In addition to Iteffa, juniors Kevin Miiller and Renier Henning return. Henning was the second Husker runner to cross the finish line at the Big Eight Championships, as he finished 20th overall, while Miiller was 41st overall and fifth among NU finishers. Arizona transfer David Draheim and freshman Banti Iteffa are expected to strengthen Dirksen's squad.

Despite the loss of three-time cross country All-American Fran ten Benschel to graduation, the NU women expect to field another strong team in 1993. Ten Benschel, only the second three-time All-American in school history, finished second at the Big Eight Championships, won the NCAA District V title and was ninth at the NCAA Championships.

Look for senior Theresa Stelling to fill the void left by ten Benschel. Stelling earned

All-America honors in the 3,000-meter run at the NCAA Outdoor Championships as a junior. After a fourth-place finish at both the Big Eight and NCAA District V Championships, she placed 57th at the NCAA Championships.

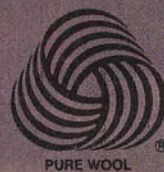

Others expected to contribute this season include sophomore Sandy Fein, junior JoDee Shufelt, sophomore Sherri Sutter and junior Kirsten Walz. Sophomore Michele Schaefer, who sat out the 1992 season as a redshirt, is also expected to contribute. ■

1993 AT&T LONG DISTANCE AWARD

A.D. COAST-TO-COAST

The image endures. Tucked into the lower righthand corner of the December 9, 1974 Sports Illustrated cover was a photograph of two Notre Dame cheerleaders.

Crying.

Had the photo been taken during the first half of the Irish's annual intersectional bloodletting with Southern California, the two young women would have been smiling. Shouting. Jumping for joy. But it was taken later, in the overcast Los Angeles twilight, after the host Trojans had erased a 24-0 lead and scored a wildly improbable 55-24 victory.

Sixth-ranked USC scored 35 third-quarter points against the nation's top-ranked defense en route to one of the most unbelievable comebacks in college football history. A comeback keyed by the long-distance exploits of USC's star tailback, Anthony Davis.

"The greatest, most incredible game," said Davis afterward. "We had some magic. We turned into madmen."

None was madder than Davis, who ripped through the Irish for four touchdowns, bringing his career total to 11 against ND. It was his scintillating, 102-yard bolt with the second half kickoff that triggered the deluge. The cross-country return was Davis' third score on a kick return against the Irish — he had two in the Trojans' 45-23 win two years earlier — and began the Trojan march back from a 24-6 halftime deficit.

"We needed a catalyst, and it came through on the kickoff return," USC coach John McKay said.

"During halftime, we discussed that there was no NCAA rule against blocking on kickoffs. We knew we had to score the first time we had the ball in the second half."

Davis fielded the kick two yards deep in his end zone, slanted left, broke a tackle and took off, outrunning Irish frosh Ted Burgmeier for paydirt. Though the Trojans failed on a two-point conversion try, the momentum was theirs.

Davis scored again from six yards out, on the Trojans' next possession, and closed his four-TD effort (he had scored USC's lone first-half touchdown on a pass from quarterback Pat Haden) by diving in from the four one series later, to give USC the lead, 27-24.

The rout was on. USC scored 28 points in less than 10 minutes and hung up seven TDs in a little over one quarter. No team had scored more points on Notre Dame. Ever.

"If someone with a crystal ball had told me beforehand what was going to happen, I would have said, 'Put that guy away,'" USC quarterback Pat Haden said. "It was pure fantasy."

A 102 yard kick-off return was truly a Long Distance achievement for Anthony Davis.

AT&T salutes the best Long Distance players

The AT&T Long Distance Award honors Division I-A players in six Long Distance football categories each week. A $400 scholarship contribution is made each time a student athlete is recognized.

At the conclusion of the season, AT&T will present six Long Distance Awards based on season-long statistics, plus donate an additional $6,000, for a total of approximately $40,000 in scholarship contributions by the end of the football season. All contributions are directed to the NCAA's Degree Completion Award program, to help deserving senior student-athletes "go the distance" to obtain their college degrees.

At AT&T, we honor players who have reached their goals on the field and we help others reach their goals off the field. Look for announcements in your local paper each week to see if your favorite players win the AT&T Long Distance Awards.

We're Proud To Announce That In The Fiercely Competitive Airline Game, Nice Guys Finish First.

As in "Best Airline for 1993," according to the Robb Report, whose readers also named our people the Best/Most Courteous in the business.

Delta's Crown Room Clubs were named "Best Executive Club" for the second straight year. And our Frequent Flyer program came in first, as well.

This is very good news.

Because even though we serve over 250 cities in 34 countries, our goal has never been to become the world's biggest airline. Just the best.

Leave it to the guys who brought you

WHEN RUSSELL ATHLETIC CREATED THE FIRST TEAR-AWAY JERSEY TWO DECADES AGO, A COUPLE OF THINGS HAPPENED. FIRST, COLLEGE RUNNERS FOUND IT EASIER TO BREAK TACKLES. BUT MORE IMPORTANTLY, WE FOUND A WAY TO MAKE A BETTER, MORE DURABLE SWEATSHIRT. ONE TOUGH ENOUGH TO COME WITH A FIVE-YEAR GUARANTEE. RUSSELL ATHLETIC IS THE OFFICIAL UNIFORM SUPPLIER FOR MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, AND A SUPPLIER FOR THE NFL. WE EVEN OUTFIT MOST MAJOR COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS. SO WHEN WE MAKE A SWEATSHIRT, DURABILITY IS MORE THAN JUST A GIVEN. IT'S A GUARANTEE. RUSSELL ATHLETIC. IT'S EVERYTHING ELSE WE MAKE THAT MAKES OUR SWEATS SO GREAT.

CoSIDA/GTE Academic All-America Team University Division

The 1993 CoSIDA/GTE Academic All-America Football Team, selected by members of the College Sports Information Directors of America, honors the nation's best student-athletes.

Just as the balancing of football and academics is difficult, the standards for nomination and selection to the team are rigorous. To be nominated, a varsity starter or key reserve player must have a minimum 3.200 cumulative grade-point average (on a 4.000 scale).

The program began in the 1950s with honorees in football; later, basketball and baseball all-academic teams were added. Academic and athletics biographical data of nominees are prepared in ballot form and mailed to the CoSIDA membership, which votes in each of eight districts. From the eight district teams comes a national ballot, distributed to the 1,400 members for the final all-academic team.

One player from the university division also was honored as GTE academic all-American of the year. The honor, which goes to the athlete who "best represents the qualities of an academic all-American," was presented to offensive lineman Jim Hansen of Colorado. Hansen, who was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship, made his third consecutive appearance on the first team.

The team also featured an honoree whose father was a first-team academic all-America selection in the 1960s. John Wright Jr. of Illinois and his father, John Wright Sr., who also played for the Fighting Illini, became the first father/son combination to earn first-team honors.

"The achievements of these young men should truly be commended," said NBC sportscaster Dick Enberg, spokesman for the GTE academic all-America team. "I often wonder where college students find the time and energy to play a demanding sport like football, excel in the classroom and be active on campus and in their communities. To me, these are the true all-Americans."

The psychiatric team behind our success.

It's the kids. When they come to us, they're confused. Angry. Afraid. But at Rivendell Psychiatric Center, they're also in a special position to help themselves.

We call it our positive peer environment. And with the support of their families and the guidance and leadership of psychiatrists, psychologists, teachers and other members of our professional treatment staff, the kids have the kind of support and constant reinforcement they need.

But that's not all. While working together is an important part of the therapy, it's not the only part. We develop individual treatment programs that will continue long after they leave the hospital.

So if your child needs help, call our 24-hour toll-free number for a free assessment. Ask about the hospital that solves problems, not just treats symptoms.

Husker Volleyball -- Setting Sights on the NCAAs

By Terry L. Beek

The Nebraska volleyball team, ranked seventh in the American Volleyball Coaches Association's (AVCA) preseason poll, heads into its 19th season with its usual array of highly talented athletes and its continued quest for a national championship.

The 1993 season begins like so many others for Nebraska, as Head Coach Terry Pettit and the Huskers face the challenge of replacing great players lost to graduation. In the past seven years, UNL has graduated 10 All-Americans, four in the last two years, and has done so while maintaining a continuous national Top-10 ranking and extending its string of consecutive Big Eight Conference Championships to 17. Missing from the Husker starting lineup this season will be perhaps two of the school's all-time best athletes in Eileen Shannon and Stephanie Thater. Shannon was a four-year starter and holds the Nebraska and Big Eight Conference all-time kill record with 1,521, while Thater was a three-time All-American, a two-time Big Eight Volleyball Player-of-the-Year and holds all of the Nebraska blocking records.

Coach Pettit, who begins his 17th season with the Huskers, returns eight letterwinners from last season's 22-6 team which captured its 17th consecutive Big Eight Conference championship and made its 11th straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. Four starters return including three-year starter, senior setter Nikki Stricker. Stricker is joined by junior Kim Tonniges and senior Laura Luther, both of whom have two years of starting experience, and sophomore Allison Weston, a starter as a freshman last year.

Also returning for the Huskers are juniors Kelly Aspegren, Christy Johnson and Peggy Meyer, and sophomore Billy Winsett. A quartet of freshmen, including Stephanie Clerc, Kate Crnich, Maria Hedbeck and Jen McFadden complete the 1993 roster.

According to Pettit, the 1993 season revolves around Stricker. "Her preparation, experience and the things that she is capable of doing, will dictate the way Nebraska meets the challenges of the season," said Pettit. Stricker was a first-team All-Big Eight selection and the UNL coaching staff believes that she will be among the nation's best setters in 1993. She was instrumental in the Huskers' league-leading .269 hitting percentage last year which ranked 15th nationally.

Tonniges and Luther provide the team with significant starting experience, but both underwent off-season reconstructive shoulder surgery. Pettit is hopeful that the duo will be full speed by the start of the season. Tonniges is a two-year starter at middle blocker while Luther started every match last season and was a part-time starter in 1991.

Weston, voted 1992 Big Eight Co-Newcomer-of-the-Year and to Volleyball Monthly's All-Freshman team, will move from right-side hitter to middle blocker to help fill the void left by Thater. Weston is the team's top returning hitter and blocker averaging 2.95 kills and 1.11 blocks per game as a freshman. She picked up valuable experience during her summer participation with the U.S. National "B" team.

Eight others will battle for a pair of vacant starting positions. The junior quartet of Aspegren, Johnson, Meyer and Winsett each gained experience during the off-season and during the summer, as Johnson joined Weston on the U.S. National "B" team and Winsett joined Stricker at the U.S. Olympic Festival.

The four incoming freshmen form a typical Nebraska recruiting class as each of the first-year players are prepared to contribute immediately.

Pettit believes that his 1993 squad has the potential to become an excellent team. He said, "When people see us play, in some ways, it will be a typical Nebraska team with exceptional athletes on the court playing well. But what we hope to be doing in 1993 will be a little different than what people have seen in the past from Husker teams. We will be less conservative offensively, with a faster tempo."

Nebraska will be facing another strong field of adversaries in 1993 in its drive toward a national title, including 11 1992 NCAA Tournament participants, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Georgia, Louisiana State, Notre Dame, Santa Clara, Illinois, Texas, Houston and Big Eight rival Colorado. Pettit believes the Big Eight has the potential to be the strongest it has ever been from top to bottom. Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas and Iowa State return top performers, while the entire league enjoyed excellent recruiting.

Nebraska, which has led the nation in average attendance for three consecutive seasons, opened the 1993 campaign Saturday, Aug. 28, against the Husker Alumni at the UNL Coliseum. The regular season began Wednesday, Sept. 1, against Big Ten opponent Iowa. Nebraska will host two outstanding tournaments this season with Louisville, Washington and Wyoming participating in the Arby's Classic, Sept. 10-11, and Georgia and Louisiana State coming to Lincoln for the First Tier Invitational, Sept. 17-18.

The Huskers celebrate after a 15-9 victory against Big Eight foe Colorado last season before a Nebraska Coliseum record crowd of 4,538. Nebraska won the match and the Conference championship.

I tell ya, small type don't get no respect. So a horse walks into a bar and the bartender says, "Hey, why the long face?" If a tin whistle is made of tin, what's a foghorn made of? A guy walks into a psychiatrist's office and says 'Help me. My wife think's she's a refrigerator.' The psychiatrist says, 'What's wrong with that?' And the guy says, 'It's not bad, but she sleeps with her mouth open and the light keeps me awake.' Take my wife, please.

Academic All-America Hall of Fame

Three former college football stars and a basketball standout are the newest members of the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

Joining the 28-member hall of fame are Raymond Berry, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame; Dave Casper, an all-American tight end; Jim Grabowski, the Rose Bowl MVP in 1964; and Kermit Washington, who averaged 21 points and 21 rebounds per game in his senior year.

The four honorees represent the sixth class of inductees named to the hall of fame. They were selected from among 25 nominees chosen by the 1,400-member College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

To be eligible for the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame, an athlete must have been a GTE Academic All-America team member with a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.000 (on a 4.000 scale). In addition, his or her class must have been graduated for at least 10 years.

A hall of fame selection committee chose the foursome after examining their career and community achievements since they graduated from college. In 1988, GTE and CoSIDA established the hall of fame to honor former academic all-Americans who have attained high achievement in their chosen professions and have made substantial contributions to their communities.

"GTE established the hall of fame to recognize the importance of academics as a foundation of life," said Charles R. Lee, GTE chair and chief executive officer. "All of this year's inductees built a solid academic foundation and continue to build on it in their career and community."

"GTE Academic All-America team members are great role models," said NBC sportscaster Dick Enberg, spokesman for the GTE Academic All-America program. "We are proud to have these four inductees join an elite group of former student-athletes who have been inducted into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame."

The 1993 inductees:

Raymond Berry

Berry was a business administration

major and cocaptain at Southern Methodist, where he also was selected all-Southwest Conference as a wide receiver in 1954.

Berry was drafted by the Baltimore Colts in the 20th round of the 1955 NFL draft. He went on to play 13 years in the NFL, all with the Colts, and is recognized as one of the premier wide receivers in league history.

Berry holds franchise receiving records for receptions in a career (631); receiving yards in a career (9,275); receiving yards in a season (1,298); and receiving yards in a game (224). He played in three NFL championship games, five Pro Bowls and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1973.

After his retirement in 1968, Berry served stints as an assistant coach with the Dallas Cowboys; the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville; the Detroit Lions; Cleveland Browns, and New England Patriots. He was named head coach of the Patriots in 1984 and led them to the Super Bowl the next season. He most recently was an assistant coach with the Denver Broncos.

David Casper

Casper was an all-America tight end and economics major at Notre Dame and captain of the 1973 national championship team. A two-time academic all-America player, he graduated cum laude and was the recipient of an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

Casper was drafted by the Oakland Raiders and played 11 years in the NFL, earning all-Pro honors five times. He was a key member of the Raiders' 1976 team that defeated the Minnesota Vikings in Super Bowl XI. He retired in 1984 and served as an NFL commentator for NBC Sports from 1987 to 1988.

Currently general manager of a Mutual of Omaha insurance company office, Casper is active in numerous charitable activities. He is on the board of directors for Ronald McDonald House, which provides care and housing for terminally ill children, and is a cofounder of the Ronald McDonald Celebrity Golf Tournament of the Twin Cities.

He also is chairman of the 100 Men

Committee, a fund-raising group working on behalf of the Minnesota women's athletics department, and is a member of the university's advisory council of the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

James Grabowski

Grabowski was a two-time consensus All-American at Illinois who, as a sophomore, was the MVP of the 1964 Rose Bowl. He placed third in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy in his senior year of 1966.

The Big-10 Conference's career rushing leader at the time of his graduation in 1966, Grabowski was a first-round draft choice by the NFL champion Green Bay Packers in 1966. He played six years in the NFL with the Packers and Chicago Bears.

Grabowski has been involved with many charitable organizations and is an officer of the Red Cloud Athletic Fund, which raises money for Sioux Indians. He has been a guest speaker for such groups as the Better Boys Foundation, the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society.

Grabowski, who lives in Palatine, Illinois, is president of Motivation Merchandise Company, a sales and promotion company he founded in 1975.

Kermit Washington

A talented power forward, Washington averaged 21 points and 21 rebounds per game in his senior year at American. In the two decades since, no Division I player has averaged 20 points and 20 rebounds per game for an entire season. After graduating as a science major, he went on to an eight-year career in the NBA with the Portland Trail Blazers and Los Angeles Lakers.

From 1984 through 1986, Washington headed the Oregon governor's Professionals Advocating Student Success (P.A.S.S.) program. He founded the "6th Man Foundation," an organization that assists disadvantaged Oregonians. He also has appeared as a speaker for many youth groups on the subjects of self-worth, self-importance, working hard and avoiding drugs, and he is involved with campaigns to raise money so needy children can attend summer basketball camps free of charge.

Washington presides over a company marketing innovative fitness and conditioning gear. He also is cofounder and assists in the running of the Pete Newell Basketball Camp, one of the most prominent basketball camps in the country specializing in developing centers and big forwards. ■

+ ethanol =

MINIMUM OCTANE RATING
(R + M) / 2 METHOD

90

How to score an easy three points.

Those numbers on the gas pump are telling you something important about your gasoline. The higher the number, the greater the octane rating of the gasoline. More octane means better engine performance.

Ethanol boosts the octane in gasoline by three numbers. And it provides this boost naturally, without the use of toxic manmade chemicals that pollute the air.

Best of all, you don't pay a premium for this high octane, clean-burning fuel, because ethanol blended gasoline is priced competitively with regular 87-octane unleaded.

When you fill up, look for the "Clean Air Fuel" sticker on the pump. And score three points for your car's performance.

We're Running The Ball For Nebraska

Charging Ahead With Healthcare Reform

Nebraskans are people who take hold of the ball and run with it. So, it should be no surprise that we are not waiting for healthcare reform to come from Washington, D.C. Community Health Vision and Mutual of Omaha are developing a local solution, today.

Made up of Immanuel and Bergan Mercy Medical Centers in Omaha, and Mercy Hospital in Council Bluffs, Community Health Vision and Mutual of Omaha are teaming up with providers—such as physicians, other healthcare professionals and other area and regional hospitals to expand access to high quality, affordable healthcare services.

Together, we are building a community care network that will meet the healthcare needs of our region. Everyone in the network is focused on keeping people healthy or caring for them when they are not. This cooperation is the key to:

- Controlling the rising costs of healthcare
- Keeping the costs of insurance premiums down for employers and individuals
- Increasing the variety of healthcare services and the number of locations in the area
- Reducing the amount of paperwork
- Emphasizing preventive and wellness services, which reduce the incidence of illness
- Increasing services available to uninsured and underinsured

Community Health Vision and The Mutual of Omaha Companies are running the ball for Nebraska. If you would like additional information about our game plan, please contact Community Health Vision or Mutual of Omaha.
